

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

DAIICHI JITSUGYO CO., LTD. (security code: 8059)

<Affirmation>

Long-term Issuer Rating: A-
Outlook: Stable

Rationale

- (1) DAIICHI JITSUGYO CO., LTD. (the "Company") is an independent trading company specializing in machinery. It handles a wide range of products, including various types of plant equipment, SMT (surface mount technology) systems and injection molding machines for broad fields where demand come from. Not only selling machinery, it has a system to offer comprehensive support including technical support and project management in Japan and abroad. The Company's own engineering function mentioned above is the advantage, and it excels in ability to win large-scale projects, among others. Furthermore, the overseas sales ratio is approximately 50%. Recently, it has been further strengthening the engineering function through M&As and others.
- (2) The performance is expected to remain steady. Having the engineering function as the advantage, the Company has been increasing the number of orders intake for large scale projects with high added value. While sales are growing, profitability is also in an improvement trend. Although attention needs to be paid to changes in the business environment including the U.S. tariff policy, the diversified business portfolio appears to support the performance. On the financial front, the Company has been in a substantive debt-free position over the long-term, and thereby it is unlikely that financial soundness will be impaired. Based on the above, JCR has affirmed the rating on the Company with a Stable outlook. Eyes are on whether the profit level will be rising further by expansion of the business foundation through growth investments.
- (3) For the fiscal year ended March 2025 (FY2024), due to the contribution from large scale projects, the Company achieved a record high reporting an operating income of 13.1 billion yen, up 44.1% over the year. For FY2025, it expects to secure a high profit level continuously projecting an operating income of 12 billion yen, down 8.4% over the year. Mixed results are observed by segment depending on with or without large scale projects and other factors, but the trend in order intake is well as a whole. In addition to securing appropriate gross profit, and also holding down SG&A expenses, steady performance can also be expected for FY2026 and beyond. Toward further increasing the earning capacity, product development, expansion of trading area and expansion/fulfilment of the engineering function through growth investment will become important.
- (4) Financial structure is favorable as shown by the equity capital of 80 billion yen and equity ratio of 48.4% at the end of June 2025. Recently, it has been carrying a large amount of inventory in response to an increase in large scale projects, but risk involved is limited because the majority is linked with orders. The Company has been showing more active stance toward investment compared to the past, but the source of funds required is primarily the own funds on hand, the policy to maintain certain financial discipline also remains unchanged.

3 The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and business environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees.
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Business Bases

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's business bases - how they can be maintained/ expanded into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a financial institution might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions).

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as parent company, subsidiary, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7
