

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

TIS Inc. (security code: 3626)

<Outlook Change>

Long-term Issuer Rating: A
Outlook: from Stable to Positive

INTEC INC. (security code: -)

<Outlook Change>

Long-term Issuer Rating: A
Outlook: from Stable to Positive

Rationale

- (1) TIS Inc. (the “Company”) is an operating holding company of the TIS INTEC Group. The Group boasts top-class sales in Japan’s information system industry and has extensive customer bases covering industries such as financial, manufacturing, distribution and energy, as well as public sector, with the number of customers reaching approximately 15,000 companies in Japan. In particular, it has a large market share and affluent development track record in the payment settlement business. INTEC INC. (“INTEC”) is the Company’s wholly owned subsidiary, which accounts for approximately 25% of the consolidated net sales. It has strengths in CRM system for regional banks and public sector, and assumes the role of the Group’s core business company. Given the two companies’ management unity, INTEC’s rating is the same as the Company.
- (2) The growth trajectory of business performance has been continuing even under the COVID-19 pandemic. There is no change in DX trend, and demand for IT investment is on an upward trend. In addition to the strong customer base, the Group is using its extensive knowledge of the industry and high level of development capabilities to capture demand in growth areas such as settlement of payments, and is making structural transformation for the future. Although there is a burden of upfront investment, level and stability of business performance will improve further, supported by measures to improve productivity. It also has a high awareness of financial discipline, and there is little concern that its financial soundness will be impaired. Based on the above, JCR has affirmed the ratings, but revised the rating outlook from Stable to Positive. JCR will follow the progress of the structural transformation, earnings capacity and financial conditions, and reflect them in the rating.
- (3) JCR believes that the results of the ongoing structural transformation will gradually emerge, and this will remain a point of focus. In the DX business, the Group is focusing on promoting co-creation with stakeholders and strengthening its consulting function. In the service business, it is creating services that contribute to solving social issues, and plans to launch credit SaaS service in the fiscal year ending March 2023 (FY2022). Although it needs to own its own assets, it will be able to build a business foundation that is less susceptible to order trends and human resources. In the global business, it is pursuing M&A and capital and business alliances, mainly in ASEAN. It is expanding its scale of operations by raising its stake in a step-by-step manner, and risks are therefore limited. Full-scale service development is expected through the creation of synergies.
- (4) The Company plans to increase the operating income for the 11th consecutive year to 52 billion yen (up 13.7% year-on-year) for FY2021. The increase in revenue and improvement in profitability can absorb the burden of upfront investments. On the other hand, its financial structure is good with an equity ratio of 62.2% as of the end of the second quarter of FY2021. The Company can expect stable cash flow generation, and can maintain the current level of financial structure, as it intends to use its own funds to invest aggressively in growth areas and also strengthen shareholder returns.

Information on the Sensitivity of the Credit Rating to Assumptions Made as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(M) of Rule 17g-7

A) Business Bases

The credit rating herewith presented could be changed if and when the assumptions made at the time of its determination turn out to be inaccurate with regard to the issuer's business bases and powers of earning or cash flow generation, etc. The resultant change of the credit rating is most likely by a notch, as JCR speculates, but possibly as much as a few notches if the development is rapid in improvement or deterioration of the issuer's business bases on some drastic change in the operational environments, etc.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The credit rating herewith presented could be changed if and when the assumptions made at the time of its determination turn out to be inaccurate with regard to the issuer's financial grounds and asset

Information on the Sensitivity of the Credit Rating to Assumptions Made as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(M) of Rule 17g-7

A) Business Bases

The credit rating herewith presented could be changed if and when the assumptions made at the time of its determination turn out to be inaccurate with regard to the issuer's business bases and powers of earning or cash flow generation, etc. The resultant change of the credit rating is most likely by a notch, as JCR speculates, but possibly as much as a few notches if the development is rapid in improvement or deterioration of the issuer's business bases on some drastic change in the operational environments, etc.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The credit rating herewith presented could be changed if and when the assumptions made at the time of its determination turn out to be inaccurate with regard to the issuer's financial grounds and asset quality. The resultant change of the credit rating is most likely by a notch, as JCR speculates, but possibly as much as a few notches if the development is rapid in improvement or deterioration of the issuer's financial grounds and/ or asset quality on some drastic change in its business bases.

C) Liquidity Risks

The credit rating herewith presented could be changed if and when the assumptions made at the time of its determination turn out to be inaccurate with regard to the issuer's liquidity positions. The resultant change of the credit rating is most likely by a notch, as JCR speculates, but possibly as much as a few notches if the development is rapid in improvement or deterioration of the issuer's liquidity positions on some drastic change in its financial management policy or relations with fund procurement sources, etc.

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The credit rating herewith presented could be changed if and when the assumptions made at the time of its determination turn out to be inaccurate with regard to the issuer's parent company or subsidiaries, guarantor or other providers of credit enhancement, the government of the issuer's business domicile or other related parties' status and stance of support/ assistance for the issuer. The resultant change of the credit rating is most likely by a notch, as JCR speculates, but possibly as much as a few notches if there is a major change on the part of related parties, such as replacement, disappearance, some drastic improvement/ deterioration of financial grounds/ balances, etc.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment and Non-Payment Forgiven by Contract

The credit rating herewith presented could be changed if and when the assumptions made at the time of its determination turn out to be inaccurate with regard to the order of seniority in repayment of interests and principal. JCR assumes the resultant change of the credit rating is most likely by a notch. The change could be as much as a few notches if the issuer's financial structure differs so much and thereby the balance between debts shifted so greatly. Rating change is also possible in case of the financial products for which non-payment of interest/ principal is contractually permissible, if and when the assumptions made at the time of its determination turns out to be inaccurate. The change of the credit rating is assumed to be by a notch but often as much as a few notches.
