

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

IKAI CO., LTD. (security code: -)

<Affirmation>

Long-term Issuer Rating: BB+
Outlook: Stable

Rationale

- (1) Established in 1970, IKAI CO., LTD. (the "Company") engages in worker dispatching and business contracting primarily for the manufacturers of transportation equipment, electrical equipment, etc. Its main business area is Shizuoka Prefecture and its vicinity, but recently it is also expanding business in the Kyushu region. As the Company functions as a holding company, group companies under its umbrella provide actual services to customers. Recognizing the Company's strong unity with the group companies in various aspects such as management, capital and funds, JCR reflects the group's overall creditworthiness in the Company's rating.
- (2) There is no significant change in the Company's stable business relationships with its main customers. In the first-half period of the fiscal year ended March 2021 (FY2020), orders for dispatching and contracting services fell significantly due to the COVID-19 pandemic, but since the second half of the fiscal year, orders have picked up in line with output recovery at customers. Going forward, solid earnings capacity is assumed to be maintained on the background of the stable customer base. Its financial position is favorable, as evidenced by an ongoing debt-free position. With no major investments planned for the foreseeable future, accumulation of capital and a liquidity on hand will likely continue to progress. Based on the above, JCR has affirmed the rating on the Company with Stable outlook.
- (3) Revenues fell sharply in FY2020 due to the impact of COVID-19 pandemic but, thanks to efforts of cost cutting, etc., the Company ensured an operating income even in the level before recording an employment adjustment subsidy. In FY2021, earnings are expected to recover in line with a rise in orders for dispatching and contracting services. In the medium term, earnings would improve further with a decrease of the impact of the lack of semiconductors at customers and other factors.
- (4) The Company's main business risk factors are customers biased toward industries highly sensitive to the economy, such as transportation equipment and electrical equipment; and business domains concentrated within Shizuoka Prefecture. For these, it remains important to promote the dispersion of customers in term of industry and geographical area. JCR will continue to follow up on the progress of its efforts such as acquiring customers in the food industry, which is less susceptible to economic fluctuations, and expanding business in the Kyushu region, where it has entered since 2015. The Company is also actively proposing a shift from temporary staffing agreements to contracting agreements to strengthen its relationship with customers. JCR will observe whether shifting to contracting can be promoted by appealing productivity improvement at the site and other advantages.

The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and business environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees.
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Business Bases

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's business bases - how they can be maintained/ expanded into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a financial institution might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions).

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as parent company, subsidiary, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7

Also, the changes in the quality of asset under the issuer's holding may affect the credit rating, since such changes could raise or lower the likelihood of future loss of the issuer's financial grounds. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the financial grounds and/ or asset quality is large.
