

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

Taiyo Oil Company, Limited (security code: -)

<Affirmation>

Long-term Issuer Rating: BBB
Outlook: Stable
CP: J-2

Rationale

- (1) Taiyo Oil Company, Limited (the "Company") is an independent oil refiner-distributor that manufactures and sells petroleum and petrochemical products. The Company operates Shikoku Operations in Ehime Prefecture, as its only refinery. Although the capacity of the atmospheric distillation units is relatively smaller compared to the three major companies, competitiveness is being enhanced through the introduction of vacuum residue fluid catalytic cracking units and transalkylation units. In sales, it is focusing on the western Japan region and operating service stations under the SOLATO brand. In December 2024, the Company completed an absorption-type merger with its subsidiary, Nansei Sekiyu K.K, reorganizing its facilities as the Okinawa Operations. Currently, it is considering entering the sustainable aviation fuel (SAF) production business at the operations.
- (2) Although the fluctuations in accounting profit are significant, the fundamental earning capacity excluding inventory effects remains stable. Domestic petroleum product margins have been steady, and a high operating rate is maintained by preventing troubles in operation. From a financial perspective, despite the persistently high level of outstanding interest-bearing debt, an improvement in the financial balance is observed due to an increase in equity capital. Based on the above, JCR has affirmed the ratings on the Company with Stable outlook. For the SAF business, since it is expected to require large investments exceeding 200 billion yen in total, JCR needs to carefully confirm the financial impact, financing methods and investment recovery forecast.
- (3) The ordinary profit for the fiscal year ended March 2025 (FY2024) fell sharply to 2.3 billion yen (18 billion yen in FY2023). In addition to the long-term operation suspension due to a large major overhaul, inventory valuation losses accompanying the decline in crude oil prices had an impact. For FY2025, profit is highly likely to show a significant increase because of the disappearance of negative effects from the major overhaul in the previous period fiscal year. Additionally, by reobtaining the high-pressure gas certification in September 2025, a reduction in the strain of maintenance work is expected.
- (4) The D/E ratio at the end of FY2024 was 0.9x (1.0x at the end of FY2023). Although it is challenging to reduce interest-bearing debt on the back of strain of working capital and growth investments in new businesses, current financial indicators are improving thanks to accumulated profit for the period. However, depending on the investment plans for new businesses, including the SAF business, there is a possibility that the financial structure will change significantly. JCR will closely watch such impacts.

3

The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and business environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees.
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Business Bases

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's business bases - how they can be maintained/ expanded into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a financial institution might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions).

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as parent company, subsidiary, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating herewith presented by JCR is its summary opinion with regard to the likelihood of given debt payment and hence not necessarily a perfect representation of such likelihood. The credit rating is not intended to estimate the probability of default or the loss on given default, either.
- The objective of the credit rating herewith presented does not include any concerns other than the likelihood of debt payment, such as risks of price changes, market liquidity, etc.
- The credit rating herewith presented is necessary to be reviewed along with possible changes of the issuer of rated objects in its business performance and/ or circumstances which include regulatory environment, and hence subject to possible alteration.
