

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

Toho Zinc Co., Ltd. (security code: 5707)

<Credit Monitor Removal> <Rating Change>

Long-term Issuer Rating: from #BBB-/Negative to BB+

Outlook: Stable

Bonds: from #J-2/Negative to J-3

Rationale

- (1) On November 10, 2023, JCR placed Toho Zinc Co., Ltd. (the "Company")'s ratings under the credit monitor with Negative direction with reasons of a large amount of net loss reported and deteriorated financial standing at the account closing for the second quarter of the fiscal year ending March 2024 (FY2023). On the same day, the Company disclosed 2030 Vision. Toward recovering the performance, it intends to work on the following: (i) restructuring unprofitable overseas operations; (ii) RECYCLIZATION of the Smelting segment; and (iii) breaking away from some maverick approach in the Electric components & Advanced materials. Under the item (i), the Company cannot expect to make Rasp Mine profitable. Consequently, it plans to close the mine and will record impairment losses for almost all the fixed assets. Under the item (ii), it intends to increase the usage rate of recycled materials from current 2% to as high as 80% in FY2030 to increase cost competitiveness. Under the item (iii), it intends to increase product supply capacity and expand sales for new customers and usage purposes through seeking consortiums with other companies. The Company's targets for EBT before extraordinary are: 5.6 billion yen for FY2024, up 9.2 billion yen from the projection for FY2023, 8.9 billion yen for FY2026 and 8.6 billion yen for FY2030.
- (2) Any of the measures disclosed this time will likely contribute to strengthening the earnings foundation from a medium- to long-term perspective. That said, it is necessary to watch whether the results will come out as the Company expects. Additional costs may be incurred for closing down the Rasp Mine. Target usage ratio of recycled materials is far above the global average of 12% and some issues also remain in raw material procurement. The Company has a high ambition as it intends to increase EBT before extraordinary of the Electric components & Advance materials as approximately five times larger in seven years. Profit recovery will unlikely be made within a short period of time and JCR believes that the future progress needs to be checked. In addition, financial standing has largely deteriorated and will require time for recovery. However, the banks deal with the Company will likely provide financial support for the time being as they have shown their consensus on the measures to be taken by the Company going forward. Based on the above, JCR has removed the rating on the Company under the credit monitor and downgraded the long-term issuer rating by one notch to BB+ with Stable outlook.

- Please see the news release. If the credit rating is a private rating, please see the report for private rating.

3 The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and business environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees.
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Business Bases

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's business bases - how they can be maintained/ expanded into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a financial institution might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions).

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as parent company, subsidiary, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating herewith presented by JCR is its summary opinion with regard to the likelihood of given debt payment and hence not necessarily a perfect representation of such likelihood. The credit rating is not intended to estimate the probability of default or the loss on given default, either.
- The objective of the credit rating herewith presented does not include any concerns other than the likelihood of debt payment, such as risks of price changes, market liquidity, etc.
- The credit rating herewith presented is necessary to be reviewed along with possible changes of the issuer of rated objects in its business performance and/ or circumstances which include regulatory environment, and hence subject to possible alteration.
