

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

YAMADA SERVICER SYNTHETIC OFFICE CO., LTD. (security code: 4351)

<Affirmation>

Long-term Issuer Rating: BB+
Outlook: Stable

Rationale

- (1) YAMADA SERVICER SYNTHETIC OFFICE CO., LTD. (the “Company”) is an independent servicer listed on the Standard Market. It operates the servicer, dispatching, real estate solution and other businesses. The Yamada Group (the “Group”), which is led by Mr. Akihisa Yamada as the representative, comprises the Company and other entities including a judicial scrivener, land and house investigator and Yamada Escrow and Trust Co., Ltd. (“Yamada Escrow and Trust”). The Company has strength, for instance, in its abilities to offer one-stop services for real estate and receivables transactions and also to handle large-scale, nationwide cases of such transactions, backed by the broad networks inside and outside the Group.
- (2) Factors reflected in the rating include: the unique business foundation built based on the broad networks; soundness of assets underpinned by careful pricing, etc. in the servicer business; and reasonably sufficient capital relative to business risks. The Company’s profits have been staying low because of the ailing servicer business, which is otherwise highly profitable, due in part to a decline in large-scale cases, thus constraining the rating. JCR will watch whether the Company can raise the profit level by, for instance, expanding sales channels in the servicer business, the current area of focus, and enhancing the dispatching business through collaborations with Yamada Escrow and Trust.
- (3) Ordinary income and net income for the fiscal year ended December 2022 (FY2022) were 85 million yen and 76 million yen, versus the previous year’s 95 million yen and 144 million yen, respectively. In the servicer business, bidding competition at the time of receivables purchase is fierce because of the low level of non-performing loans held by financial institutions, and the amount of purchased receivables has been sluggish for the Company. In such a situation, the Company has been newly certified as a revitalization servicer by the SME Revitalization Council and is now increasing contact points with lawyers, etc. around the nation as case acquisition channels. In the dispatching business, mortgage- and real estate development-related registration services provided by the Group’s judicial scrivener and land/house investigator, major staffing destinations, have been steady, and Yamada Escrow and Trust has been expanding inheritance-related services for the customers who have been referred to by partner financial institutions. In the real estate solution business, the Company is acquiring large-scale cases by taking advantage of its own strength in handling complex land rights and so forth.
- (4) For purchased receivables, which account for the majority of trade receivables, the Company has been able to recover the amount in excess of the purchase price mostly within the target time frame. It has increased net assets to around 3 billion yen over the long term, and, given such factors as the track record of collecting receivables, JCR assumes that the Company has reasonable financial resilience to business risks. In terms of financing, the Company basically raises funds through short-term borrowings and receives overdraft facilities from multiple financial institutions that can adequately accommodate the purchase of receivables. Moreover, it is stabilizing financing by utilizing the long-term credit line that was newly given in the current fiscal year.

The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and business environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees.
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Business Bases

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's business bases - how they can be maintained/ expanded into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a financial institution might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions).

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as parent company, subsidiary, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating herewith presented by JCR is its summary opinion with regard to the likelihood of given debt payment and hence not necessarily a perfect representation of such likelihood. The credit rating is not intended to estimate the probability of default or the loss on given default, either.
- The objective of the credit rating herewith presented does not include any concerns other than the likelihood of debt payment, such as risks of price changes, market liquidity, etc.
- The credit rating herewith presented is necessary to be reviewed along with possible changes of the issuer of rated objects in its business performance and/ or circumstances which include regulatory environment, and hence subject to possible alteration.

The credit rating is subject to alteration if the issuer increases/ decreases its debt/ capital or vice versa and thereby makes its individual debt payment liability less or more bearable and its loss absorption capacity into the future decreased or increased. Also, the changes in the quality of asset under the issuer's holding may affect the credit rating, since such changes could raise or lower the likelihood of future loss of the issuer's financial grounds. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the financial grounds and/ or asset quality is large.

C) Liquidity Positions

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the issuer's financial management policy or in the relations with fund procurement sources and the change thereby makes its liquidity positions improve or deteriorate. Also, in case of the financial products for which non-payment of interest/ principal is contractually permissible, the credit rating is subject to alteration if and when the likelihood of such non-payment is projected to increase or decrease. The resultant alteration of the credit rating could be by a notch but often as much as a few notches.

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a rise/ fall in the general economy and/ or the markets inducing the issuer's revenues/ expenses to increase/ decrease and vice versa, etc. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is exceptionally large.
