Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit ratings.

The Slovak Republic

<outlook change=""></outlook>
Foreign Currency Long-term Issuer Rating:	A+
Outlook:	from Stable to Negative
Local Currency Long-term Issuer Rating:	A+
Outlook:	from Stable to Negative

Rationale

- (1) Slovakia is a euro member country in Central and Eastern Europe with a population of 5.5 million. The ratings are primarily supported by the country's relatively advanced economic base and the solid EU and euro-area support mechanisms it enjoys. Although its real GDP growth rate recovered in 2021 as the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic eased, a low economic growth is expected to continue from 2022 onward due to a high inflation and a slowdown of other European economies which are Slovakia's major export destinations. The country's energy dependence on Russia is very high, and there are concerns that the economy may significantly deteriorate if alternative sources cannot be secured. Also, the political base of the coalition government to address this situation have weakened. Based on the above, JCR has kept the ratings unchanged but lowered their outlook from Stable to Negative.
- (2) Slovakia is a small country with a nominal GDP of EUR97.1 billion in 2021 but its economy is relatively advanced with its per capita GDP reaching USD33,000 in PPP terms. The economy has a highly export-oriented structure built on accumulated foreign direct investment especially in the automotive sector and is susceptible to the economic trends in its main trading partners centering on European countries. Its real GDP growth recovered to 3.0% in 2021 as the impact of the pandemic eased. In 2022, however, the pace of recovery has been slowing down due to high inflation resulting from rising energy prices and sluggish external demand. The growth slowed to 1.8% in the second quarter of the year. The country's high dependence on the import of Russian crude oil and natural gas weighs heavily on its economic growth. The government is working to increase the natural gas storage rate and secure alternative supply sources, but there are concerns that the economy may seriously deteriorate if it fails to find stable alternative sources in the medium term.
- (3) The government moved to have anti-inflation legislation enacted as part of its measures to support the economy. This, however, developed into a conflict among the four ruling coalition parties. As a result, the Freedom and Solidarity (SaS) party left the alliance in September 2022 and the governing coalition lost its majority in parliament (with 69 out of 150 seats). JCR holds that future policy decisions can be disrupted and delayed.
- (4) The country's current account balance was in a deficit equivalent to 2.0% of GDP in 2021. The deficit mainly came from a primary income balance deficit stemming from interest and dividend payments associated with foreign direct investment. The current account deficit has been widening in 2022 due to increased imports resulting from higher energy prices. The country's net external liabilities on an IIP basis stay relatively large in the range of 60% of GDP, but the rate is much lower at around 15% when foreign direct investment is excluded. Its financial system remains stable. While banks' nonperforming loans may increase in the event of a significant economic downturn, they retain adequate buffers against such risks thanks to their stable earnings and high capital adequacy ratios.
- (5) The fiscal deficit widened as a result of the implementation of economic measures related to the pandemic, posting a deficit of 6.2% of GDP in 2021. The public debt also increased to 63.1% of GDP at the end of 2021. The government intends to reduce the budget deficit from 2022 onward. However, JCR expects that the pace of fiscal consolidation will be moderate, given a possible curb on revenues forced by an uncertain economic outlook and spending pressures coming from anti-inflation measures. On the other hand, the government's liquid assets were ample at 11.5% of GDP at the end of 2021, mitigating its immediate liquidity risk.

3 The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and business environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees.
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.
- A) Economic Base

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to the issuing government's ability to maintain/expand the economic base into the future with maintaining soundness of financial systems.

B) Fiscal Base

1

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly correlated to fiscal balance, public debt and other factors of the issuing government's fiscal condition.

C) External Positions
