

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

DISCO CORPORATION (security code: 6146)

<Affirmation>

Long-term Issuer Rating: AA-
Outlook: Stable

Rationale

- (1) DISCO CORPORATION (the “Company”) is a semiconductor production equipment manufacturer specializing in the following three technological areas: Kiru (dicing), Kezuru (grinding) and Migaku (polishing). It boasts overwhelming market shares for both precision processing equipment, such as dicing saws, grinders and polishers, and precision processing tools (consumables) that are installed to such equipment and used as cutting tools. The Company responds to customers’ needs by, for instance, conducting processing tests for various materials offered by customers, and, as its strength, is able to provide the customers with optimal combinations of equipment and consumables as well as processing solutions. Consequently, it also successfully retains its customers.
- (2) Earnings remain strong. Demand is weak for mass-production applications for smartphones and PCs, but is strong in the power-semiconductor field contributing to GX. In addition, because equipment users tend to continue to make capital investments to increase competitiveness regardless of trends in demand for final products and other factors, the Company’s shipment value stays at a high level. That said, attention should be paid to concerns over the global recession, and the impact of the new tightening of export restrictions against China by the U.S., among others. The financial structure is very favorable, which is expected to be maintained going forward. Based on the above, JCR has affirmed the rating on the Company with Stable outlook.
- (3) Operating income for the fiscal year ended March 2022 (FY2021) was 91.5 billion yen (up 72.3% year on year), hitting a record high for the second consecutive year, and the operating income margin rose to 36.1%. Earnings forecasts are disclosed ahead a quarter in advance, and the Company plans an operating income of 79.8 billion yen (up 26.2% year on year) for the first three quarters of FY2022. Fourth quarter earnings are also likely to remain strong. In FY2023, despite a strong sense of uncertainty about the business environment, the Company’s order backlog appears to be abundant and solid earnings are assumed.
- (4) Mainly thanks to accumulation of stable periodic income, its equity capital has been expanding. The equity ratio at the end of September 2022 was high at 73.7%. In addition, against the backdrop of improved cash flow generation capacity, liquidity on hand is on an uptrend, and debt-free position has already been ensured. The burden of capital investment is not heavy in the first place, and there is little concern that the favorable financial structure will be impaired in the future.

3

The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and business environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees.
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Business Bases

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's business bases - how they can be maintained/ expanded into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a financial institution might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions).

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as parent company, subsidiary, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7

- The objective of the credit rating herewith presented does not include any concerns other than the likelihood of debt payment, such as risks of price changes, market liquidity, etc.
- The credit rating herewith presented is necessary to be reviewed along with possible changes of the issuer of rated objects in its business performance and/ or circumstances which include regulatory environment, and hence subject to possible alteration.
