

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

ROHTO PHARMACEUTICAL CO., LTD. (security code: 4527)

<Affirmation>

Long-term Issuer Rating: A
Outlook: Stable

Rationale

- (1) ROHTO PHARMACEUTICAL CO., LTD. (the "Company") boasts the largest domestic market shares in OTC eye drops and lip balms sold under the brand of Mentholatum. The Company is expanding business, particularly skincare area, on the strength of its speedy product development and marketing activities based on its own technological capability and brand appeal as a drug manufacturer. It is also active in overseas business development, which led to some 40% of the sales revenue coming from the overseas business. It has recently entered new business areas such as regenerative medicine and food with aims of contributing to healthy life expectancy and establishing a second growth area after skincare.
- (2) The Company has been expanding sales revolving around eye care- and skincare-related products. Though it is making upfront investments in regenerative medicine and food businesses, it has kept the operating income margin around 10% by efficiently utilizing advertising and sales promotion expenses. The Company is likely to continue seeing an increase in sales, especially in Asia, by, among others, continuously launching new brands, bringing new products to market, and strengthening e-commerce transactions, and will thereby stably generate income. Being net debt-free, the Company has sound financial standing. Taking the above into consideration, JCR affirmed the rating on the Company with Stable outlook.
- (3) In the domestic market, the Company has been enjoying strong sales of seasonal products, such as sunscreen, and high-priced eye drops, supported by the tailwind of favorable inbound demand. It is endeavoring to expand customer base through focusing more on digital marketing, while curtailing advertising expenses. In the overseas market, it has been seeing sales growth in Southeast Asia, where economic growth is continuing, and sales in China, which was weakened in the fiscal year ended March 2017 (FY2016), turned upward as a result of taking measures to enhance the e-commerce transactions.
- (4) Its net sales and operating income are projected to grow to 176 billion yen, up 2.5% year on year, and 19.5 billion yen, up 2.2% year on year, respectively in FY2018, both hitting record highs for the second consecutive year. Sales are expected to increase in Japan, Asia and United States. Though it seems take time to start operating new business areas including regenerative medicine business in a full-fledged manner, the impact of the investment burden thereof is likely to be limited. Meanwhile, it has highly sound financial footing, with a shareholders' equity ratio of 63.3% as at end-March 2018. Given no investment projects expected to affect the financial base at present, the Company is likely to maintain the sound financial structure.

- Please see the news release.

3 The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and business environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees.
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Business Bases

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's business bases - how they can be maintained/ expanded into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a financial institution might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions).

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as parent company, subsidiary, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The credit rating is subject to alteration if the issuer increases/ decreases its debt/ capital or vice versa and thereby makes its individual debt payment liability less or more bearable and its loss absorption capacity into the future decreased or increased. Also, the changes in the quality of asset under the issuer's holding may affect the credit rating, since such changes could raise or lower the likelihood of future loss of the issuer's financial grounds. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the financial grounds and/ or asset quality is large.

The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment and Non-Payment Forgiven by Contract

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the rated debt's status in the order of seniority relative to other debts caused by the improvement/ deterioration of the issuer's financial condition.
