

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

United Urban Investment Corporation (security code: 8960)

<Affirmation>

Long-term Issuer Rating: AA
Outlook: Stable
Bonds: AA

Rationale

- (1) United Urban Investment Corporation (“United Urban”) is a diversified J-REIT investing in various types of properties in terms of type of use including retail facilities, office buildings, hotels, residential properties, and other facilities. Marubeni REIT Advisors Co., Ltd. assumes asset management operation, and the shareholder is Daiichi Life Marubeni Real Estate Co., Ltd., a joint venture between Marubeni Corporation (“Marubeni”) and Dai-ichi Life Holdings, Inc. (“Dai-ichi Life HD”) with the investment ratio of 50% each. United Urban aims to construct an optimum portfolio with a focus on intrinsic value of real estate. The portfolio currently consists of 142 properties with the total acquisition price of 705.9 billion yen. By type of use, it is accounted for 27.5% by retail facilities, 29.3% by office buildings, 25.1% by hotels, 7.4% by residential properties and 10.7% by others based on the acquisition price.
- (2) Under the prudent investment policy based on the economic climate and trend in real estate market, United Urban has realized property replacement aiming to improve the portfolio quality and strengthening the earning capacity. For external growth, from the fiscal period ended May 2025 and onward, it acquired seven properties including MALera Gifu and disposed seven properties (including properties to be disposed) including Joy Park Izumigaoka. The rental business operation has been steady achieving the adjusted NOI yield of 5.4% based on the acquisition price and occupancy rate of 99.1% for the fiscal period ended May 2025. In addition to these track records, JCR sees United Urban will be able to continue to operate the rental business in a stable manner considering the status of diversification in asset type and tenants, and degree of concentration to major properties. On the financial front, sound financial operation is being continued assuming from the terms and conditions of interest-bearing debt, trends in LTV control and unrealized gains, etc. Based on the above, JCR has affirmed the ratings on United Urban with a Stable outlook.
- (3) United Urban has been advancing the asset replacement intending to replace around 10% of the asset size in three years until 2027 as a medium- to long-term target. Furthermore, in July 2025, Marubeni integrated the domestic real estate business with Dai-ichi Life HD, and thereby strengthening the business foundation and expansion of the pipeline can be expected. JCR will continue to pay attention to the trend in external growth including utilization of the sponsor’s broad functions. As for internal growth, United Urban has been maintaining a high level of occupancy rate, 99.1% on the basis of entire portfolio as at the end of August 2025. As for the single-tenant property of Shinsaibashi OPA Honkan, for which the tenant is scheduled to move out, the transfer of property has been decided. Therefore, an occupancy rate of the whole portfolio will probably remain high. In addition to this, JCR will also watch the execution status of appropriate CAPEX toward maintaining and raising the property competitiveness and earning capacity.
- (4) Total asset-based LTV is in an uptrend, standing at 45.3% as at the end of the fiscal period ended May 2025, but is controlled within the normal level set by the asset management company. Unrealized gains on the portfolio as of the same date amounted to 194.5 billion yen (unrealized gain ratio: 29.0%), providing a sufficient financial buffer. There are no changes in the lender composition. As at the end of the fiscal period ended May 2025, it achieved 3.5 years for the weighted average remaining years to maturity and staggered repayment dates. Considering the track records of fundraising, refinancing and so forth, JCR finds no particular concerns over the financial position.

The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and market environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Portfolios

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's portfolios - how they can be maintained/ enhanced into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a J-REIT might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions) including certainty of refinancing.

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as sponsor, asset manager, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating herewith presented by JCR is its summary opinion with regard to the likelihood of given debt payment and hence not necessarily a perfect representation of such likelihood. The credit rating is not intended to estimate the probability of default or the loss on given default, either.
- The objective of the credit rating herewith presented does not include any concerns other than the likelihood of debt payment, such as risks of price changes, market liquidity, etc.
- The credit rating herewith presented is necessary to be reviewed along with possible changes of the issuer of rated objects in its business performance and/ or circumstances which include regulatory environment, and hence subject to possible alteration.

11 Explanation or Measure of the Potential Volatility of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(K) of Rule 17g-7

A) Portfolios

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is improvement or deterioration of quality, competitive strength and diversification in the issuer's portfolios, since its revenue, etc. may improve or deteriorate by the change in its investment strategies, tenants' preferences, competitive situation, or a technological innovation. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the portfolios is large.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The credit rating is subject to alteration if the issuer increases/ decreases its debt/ capital or vice versa and thereby makes its individual debt payment liability less or more bearable and its loss absorption capacity into the future decreased or increased. Also, the changes in the quality of asset under the issuer's holding may affect the credit rating, since such changes could raise or lower the likelihood of future loss of the issuer's financial grounds. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the financial grounds and/ or asset quality is large.

C) Liquidity Positions

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the issuer's financial management policy or in the relations with fund procurement sources and the change thereby makes its liquidity positions improve or deteriorate. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the issuer's sponsor or asset manager, guarantor or other provider of credit enhancement, or the government of the issuer's business domicile, or other related parties' own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer, and the change thereby makes its portfolios, financial grounds and/ or liquidity positions improve or deteriorate, and/ or making the effectiveness of guarantee and other credit enhancement improve or deteriorate. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment and Non-Payment Forgiven by Contract

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the rated debt's status in the order of seniority relative to other debts caused by the improvement/ deterioration of the issuer's financial condition. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large. Also, in case of the financial products for which non-payment of interest/ principal is contractually permissible, the credit rating is subject to alteration if and when the likelihood of such non-payment is projected to increase or decrease. The resultant alteration of the credit rating could be by a notch but often as much as a few notches.

F) Rise and Fall in General Economy and Markets

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a rise/ fall in the general economy and/ or the markets, of e.g. real estate or interest rates, inducing the issuer's revenues/ expenses to increase/ decrease and vice versa, etc. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is exceptionally large.

G) Various Events

The credit rating is subject to alteration on occurrence of various events, such as change in the issuer's sponsor or asset manager, M&A and other organizational change, accident, violation of the law, litigation, legal/ regulatory change, natural disaster, etc., which are unforeseeable at the time when the credit rating is determined, causing a significant change on the issuer's business bases, financial grounds, etc. The resultant alteration of the credit rating could be by a notch but more often than not as much as a few notches.
