

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

ICHINEN HOLDINGS CO., LTD. (security code: 9619)

<Affirmation>

Long-term Issuer Rating: A-
Outlook: Stable
Bonds: A-
CP: J-1

Rationale

- (1) ICHINEN HOLDINGS CO., LTD. (the “Company”) is the pure holding company of the ICHINEN Group (the “Group”). It operates, alongside the core automotive leasing business, a wide range of businesses including chemicals, parking, machine tools sales, synthetic resins and agri solutions (formerly agribusiness). While maintaining the stable business base and high profitability in the core automotive leasing business, it is strengthening earning capacity in other businesses with the diversification in earnings sources. Despite aggressive investments, financial soundness has been maintained. Based on the above, JCR deems the Group’s creditworthiness to be equivalent to a rating of A-. The Group’s unity is strong, and JCR deems the Company’s long-term rating is at the same level as the Group’s creditworthiness.
- (2) Earning capacity is at a level commensurate with the rating. Consolidated operating profit for the fiscal year ended March 2026 (FY2025) reached a new high increasing profit for 23 consecutive fiscal years, 10.9 billion yen. Although the automotive leasing business, which account for a majority of consolidated operating profit, is being affected by the impacts of rising prices and others, its ROA (segment operating profit/segment assets) is at a high level among auto leasing companies. While there are fluctuations in performance across the individual segments in other businesses, the Company has been securing a stable profit level in general on the back of diversified earning streams. Recently, the agri solutions business has expanded the business scale, and JCR will pay attention to whether the Company will be able to establish as a new revenue foundation through creating synergy in the Group and others in addition to the newly joined the Group companies’ performance contribution.
- (3) The quality of operating assets is good. Non-performing loans remain in a small amount and credit costs have been at a restrained level. Due to having a large number of transactions with SMEs, the Company is susceptible to economic downturns, but the customer base has been diversified into small accounts, and it is strengthening the credit management. With respect to auto leasing, where creditworthiness of borrowers deteriorates, it is easy to secure credits through selling vehicles with well-established used car markets. On the back of these, JCR sees credit costs will remain at a restrained level for the time being as well.
- (4) Capital adequacy is at a level commensurate with the rating. The amount of equity capital has been increasing through consistent accumulation of profits, and consolidated equity ratio as of the end of FY2025 increased 2.3 percentage points from a year before to 33.8%. Including the M&A transaction in the agri solutions business executed in 2026, consolidated total assets will probably continue to be in an upward trend due to active investments. That said, prudent financial management policy remains unchanged, and JCR assumes financial soundness will be maintained.

The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and business environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees.
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Business Bases

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's business bases - how they can be maintained/ expanded into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a financial institution might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions).

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as parent company, subsidiary, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating herewith presented by JCR is its summary opinion with regard to the likelihood of given debt payment and hence not necessarily a perfect representation of such likelihood. The credit rating is not intended to estimate the probability of default or the loss on given default, either.
- The objective of the credit rating herewith presented does not include any concerns other than the likelihood of debt payment, such as risks of price changes, market liquidity, etc.
- The credit rating herewith presented is necessary to be reviewed along with possible changes of the issuer of rated objects in its business performance and/ or circumstances which include regulatory environment, and hence subject to possible alteration.

5 Information on the Uncertainty of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(E) of Rule 17g-7

Consequently, the credit rating determined on the grounds of such information does not constitute, explicitly or implicitly, any representation or warrant of JCR on the information itself or any consequences of its use in terms of accuracy, relevance, timeliness, wholeness, market value, or usefulness for any specific purposes.

11 Explanation or Measure of the Potential Volatility of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(K) of Rule 17g-7

A) Business Bases

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is improvement or deterioration of the issuer's business bases, since its revenue, etc. may improve or deteriorate by the change in its business management policies, clients' preferences, competitive situation, or a technological innovation. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the business bases is large.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The credit rating is subject to alteration if the issuer increases/ decreases its debt/ capital or vice versa and thereby makes its individual debt payment liability less or more bearable and its loss absorption capacity into the future decreased or increased. Also, the changes in the quality of asset under the issuer's holding may affect the credit rating, since such changes could raise or lower the likelihood of future loss of the issuer's financial grounds. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the financial grounds and/ or asset quality is large.

C) Liquidity Positions

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the issuer's financial management policy or in the relations with fund procurement sources and the change thereby makes its liquidity positions improve or deteriorate. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the issuer's parent company or subsidiary, guarantor or other provider of credit enhancement, or the government of the issuer's business domicile, or other related parties' own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer, and the change thereby makes its business bases, financial grounds and/ or liquidity positions improve or deteriorate, and/ or making the effectiveness of guarantee and other credit enhancement improve or deteriorate. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment and Non-Payment Forgiven by Contract

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the rated debt's status in the order of seniority relative to other debts caused by the improvement/ deterioration of the issuer's financial condition. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large. Also, in case of the financial products for which non-payment of interest/ principal is contractually permissible, the credit rating is subject to alteration if and when the likelihood of such non-payment is projected to increase or decrease. The resultant alteration of the credit rating could be by a notch but often as much as a few notches.

F) Rise and Fall in General Economy and Markets

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a rise/ fall in the general economy and/ or the markets inducing the issuer's revenues/ expenses to increase/ decrease and vice versa, etc. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is exceptionally large.

G) Various Events

The credit rating is subject to alteration on occurrence of various events, such as change in the issuer's major shareholders, M&A and other organizational change, accident, violation of the law, litigation, legal/ regulatory change, natural disaster, etc., which are unforeseeable at the time when the credit rating is determined, causing a significant change on the issuer's business bases, financial grounds, etc. The resultant alteration of the credit rating could be by a notch but more often than not as much as a few notches.
