Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

Daiwa House Global REIT, Inc. (security code: -)

<Affirmation>
Long-term Issuer Rating: AA-
Outlook: Stable

Rationale

(1) Daiwa House Global REIT, Inc. (the “Corporation”) is an unlisted open-ended investment corporation sponsored by DAIWA HOUSE INDUSTRY CO., LTD. Its assets are managed by Daiwa House Real Estate Investment Management Co., Ltd. Leveraging the wealth of development and management experiences of the real estate business of DAIWA HOUSE GROUP, the Corporation aims to expand the assets under the management through building a portfolio mainly investing in logistics facilities in Japan as its basic policy. The portfolio currently consists of 20 properties with a total acquisition price of 150 billion yen (price for overseas real estate was derived from the exchange rate at the time of acquisition).

(2) The Corporation’s portfolio is comprised mainly by relatively new logistics facilities developed by the sponsor group, and a highly stable revenue foundation, centered on long-term tenancy agreements, has been established. Since commencement of the operation, the occupancy rate of the entire portfolio has been hovering above 98% by and large, and a track record of rent increase capturing an improvement in the market conditions has also been built up. With respect to an outbreak of fire at a property owned in November 2025, JCR sees the impact on the Corporation’s performance is limited since expenses for the restoration work are expected to be borne by the tenant in principle, and rents after the incident were entirely received. On the financial front, while the LTV ratio has risen, it is being managed within the range prescribed by the Corporation’s policy, indicating sound financial management. Based on the above, JCR has affirmed the rating on the Corporation with a Stable outlook.

(3) For external growth, while no new property acquisition was observed in the last one year, the asset size has consistently expanded by acquiring sponsor-developed properties through capital increases since commencing the operation. Amid a continued challenging property acquisition environment, JCR will pay attention to progress in future external growth, including taking advantage of the pipeline support leveraging the sponsor group’s development capability. For internal growth, supported by the sponsor group's tenant leasing support framework and property management capabilities, the latest occupancy rate of the entire portfolio as of the end of September 2026 also remained at a high level. JCR sees the Corporation’s strength lines in its ability to utilize such support as mentioned above for both external growth and internal growth.

(4) While total asset-based LTV rose to a level exceeding 45% as of the end of the fiscal period ended August 2026, it is controlled at a normal target range of the Corporation. The Corporation controls the risk of a sharp rise in LTV by restricting the number of investment units eligible for capital refund in one fiscal period to a certain percentage of the number of investment units issued and outstanding in principle. In terms of debt financing, the Corporation continues to raise funds with consideration given to the balance between fixed-rate and floating-rate debt, and diversification of debt maturities while closely monitoring the interest rate trend. Overall, JCR finds no particular concerns over the financial management at present but will closely watch the future LTV control trends.

3 The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and market environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Portfolios

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's portfolios - how they can be maintained/ enhanced into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a J-REIT might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions) including certainty of refinancing.

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as sponsor, asset manager, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7

11 Explanation or Measure of the Potential Volatility of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(K) of Rule 17g-7

A) Portfolios

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is improvement or deterioration of quality, competitive strength and diversification in the issuer's portfolios, since its revenue, etc. may improve or deteriorate by the change in its investment strategies, tenants' preferences, competitive situation, or a technological innovation. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the portfolios is large.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The credit rating is subject to alteration if the issuer increases/ decreases its debt/ capital or vice versa and thereby makes its individual debt payment liability less or more bearable and its loss absorption capacity into the future decreased or increased. Also, the changes in the quality of asset under the issuer's holding may affect the credit rating, since such changes could raise or lower the likelihood of future loss of the issuer's financial grounds. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the financial grounds and/ or asset quality is large.

C) Liquidity Positions

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the issuer's financial management policy or in the relations with fund procurement sources and the change thereby makes its liquidity positions improve or deteriorate. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the issuer's sponsor or asset manager, guarantor or other provider of credit enhancement, or the government of the issuer's business domicile, or other related parties' own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer, and the change thereby makes its portfolios, financial grounds and/ or liquidity positions improve or deteriorate, and/ or making the effectiveness of guarantee and other credit enhancement improve or deteriorate. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment and Non-Payment Forgiven by Contract

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the rated debt's status in the order of seniority relative to other debts caused by the improvement/ deterioration of the issuer's financial condition. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large. Also, in case of the financial products for which non-payment of interest/ principal is contractually permissible, the credit rating is subject to alteration if and when the likelihood of such non-payment is projected to increase or decrease. The resultant alteration of the credit rating could be by a notch but often as much as a few notches.

F) Rise and Fall in General Economy and Markets

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a rise/ fall in the general economy and/ or the markets, of e.g. real estate or interest rates, inducing the issuer's revenues/ expenses to increase/ decrease and vice versa, etc. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is exceptionally large.

G) Various Events

The credit rating is subject to alteration on occurrence of various events, such as change in the issuer's sponsor or asset manager, M&A and other organizational change, accident, violation of the law, litigation, legal/ regulatory change, natural disaster, etc., which are unforeseeable at the time when the credit rating is determined, causing a significant change on the issuer's business bases, financial grounds, etc. The resultant alteration of the credit rating could be by a notch but more often than not as much as a few notches.
