

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

AEON Housing Loan Service Co., Ltd. (security code: -)

<Rating Change>

Long-term Issuer Rating: from A- to A
Outlook: Stable

<Affirmation>

CP: J-1

Rationale

- (1) AEON Housing Loan Service Co., Ltd. (the "Company") is a consolidated subsidiary of AEON Financial Service Co., Ltd. ("AFS"; long-term issuer rating: A), which assumes the financial services business of AEON Group. It engages in commercial loans for condo investment. In light of the revisions to the Rating Methodology for Group Companies of Corporate Group, JCR reviewed the feasibility of the Group's support extended to the Company from the perspectives of AFS Group's control over, involvement in and also significance of the Company in the business management. As a result, JCR determines the Company's long-term issuer rating is the same as the AFS Group's creditworthiness, which is A equivalent. AFS Group owns 100% of voting rights in the Company and all the directors are from the former. The unity between the Company and AFS Group is strong in terms of decision makings and business operations. JCR also judges the Company's functional significance is also high assuming from the fact that the domestic business of AFS supplies condos for investment and the Company assumes a role of providing commercial loans for such investments to compliment AFS's financial services.
- (2) The Company has a certain business base for commercial loans for condo investment and strength in sales channel for small and medium real estate companies. Under the COVID crisis, demand for commercial loans for condo investment remains firm and the transaction volume has been steadily growing. The balance of operating assets are consistently increasing and bad debt-related expenses are also at an extremely low levels. These suggest that the Company has ensured a certain level of profits steadily. Having that said, while demand for commercial loans for condo investment is strong, supply shortage of condos for investment constrains expansion of the transaction volume recently. Going forward, JCR will watch whether the business base will grow through diversification of sales channel / products and others.
- (3) The asset quality is highly sound. In addition to the prudent credit management policy, the Company also conservatively selects deals with high property value of collateral. Ratios of delinquent receivables and bad debt write-offs remain low. Capital adequacy is at a reasonable level. JCR's adjusted equity ratio has been hovering at a certain level and the margin of capital against risk has sufficiently secured. There is little concern over the liquidity. Although the ratio of fund procurement through securitization of receivables is high, its indirect financing base centered on Aeon Bank is stable and it ensures sufficient financing facilities including AFS.

The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and business environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees.
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Business Bases

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's business bases - how they can be maintained/ expanded into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a financial institution might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions).

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as parent company, subsidiary, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7
