Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd.

25-D-0474 July 11, 2025

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

Mitsui Mining and Smelting Company, Limited (security code: 5706)

<Affirmation>

Long-term Issuer Rating:	А
Outlook:	Stable
Bonds:	А
CP:	J-1

Rationale

- (1) Mitsui Mining and Smelting Company, Limited (the "Company") operates the Engineered Materials business, which mainly offers products for the electronics industry, and the Metals business, with strengths in zinc smelting. The Company has strong technical and product development capabilities and handles a large number of market-leading products, including ultra-thin copper foil with carrier film and catalysts for motorcycles. The Company is also working on product development for growth markets, focusing on solid electrolytes for solid-state batteries and special carriers for mounting nextgeneration semiconductors. As part of the selection and concentration of its business portfolio, the Company plans to sell all of its shares in Mitsui Kinzoku ACT Corporation ("Mitsui Kinzoku ACT"), a manufacturer of automotive door locks, during the fiscal year ending March 2026 (FY2025).
- (2) The Engineered Materials business is expected to drive profit growth from FY2026 onwards. In the Metals business, smelting margins have shrunk significantly, and there is concern that the difficult environment will continue for the time being. On the other hand, demand for Engineered Materials may be affected by the additional U.S. tariffs in the short term but is assumed to expand over the medium term. On the back of the increasing speed and capacity of communications and the expansion of the generative AI market, demand for ultra-thin copper foil with carrier film and high-grade VSP foil is expected to grow, boosting sales volume and profits. The financial position remains at a favorable level. Based on the above, JCR has affirmed the ratings on the Company with Stable outlook.
- (3) Ordinary income for FY2025 is planned to be 41 billion yen (down 46.3% year on year), a decrease from the record high in FY2024. The Company expects a decline in the profit contribution of the Metals business due to worsening inventory factors, shrinking smelting margins, the yen appreciation, and a decline in non-ferrous metals prices. However, business performance will likely improve from FY2026 onwards, and an increase in the sales volume of Engineered Materials, mainly copper foil, is expected to contribute to higher income.
- (4) The equity ratio improved to 50.4% at the end of FY2024 (43.5% at the end of FY2023). Backed by the strong performance, progress was made in reducing interest-bearing debt and expanding equity capital. Investments and shareholder returns under the medium-term management plan (F2025 to FY2027) are expected to be below the operating cash flow. In addition, with Mitsui Kinzoku ACT being removed from the consolidated financial statements, interest-bearing debt are assumed to decrease further going forward. Moreover, accumulated profits are projected to increase equity capital, and thereby the improving trend of the financial position will likely be maintained.

  - Please see the news release. If the credit rating is a private rating, please see the report for private rating.
- 3 The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7
  - The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and business environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees.
  - The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.
  - A) Business Bases

1

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's business bases - how they can be maintained/ expanded into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a financial institution might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions).

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as parent company, subsidiary, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

4

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

- The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7
- The credit rating herewith presented by JCR is its summary opinion with regard to the likelihood of given debt payment and hence not necessarily a perfect representation of such likelihood. - The objective of the credit rating herewith presented does not include any concerns other than the likelihood of debt payment, such as risks of price changes, market liquidity, etc.
- The credit rating herewith presented is necessary to be reviewed along with possible changes of the issuer of rated objects in its business performance and/ or circumstances which include regulatory environment, and hence subject to possible alteration.

11 Explanation or Measure of the Potential Volatility of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(K) of Rule 17g-7

A) Business Bases

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is improvement or deterioration of the issuer's business bases, since its revenue, etc. may improve or deteriorate by the change in its business management policies, clients' preferences, competitive situation, or a technological innovation. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the business bases is large.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The credit rating is subject to alteration if the issuer increases/ decreases its debt/ capital or vice versa and thereby makes its individual debt payment liability less or more bearable and its loss absorption capacity into the future decreased or increased. Also, the changes in the quality of asset under the issuer's holding may affect the credit rating, since such changes could raise or lower the likelihood of future loss of the issuer's financial grounds. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the financial grounds and/ or asset quality is large.

C) Liquidity Positions

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the issuer's financial management policy or in the relations with fund procurement sources and the change thereby makes its liquidity positions improve or deteriorate. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the issuer's parent company or subsidiary, guarantor or other provider of credit enhancement, or the government of the issuer's business domicile, or other related parties' own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer, and the change thereby makes its business bases, financial grounds and/ or liquidity positions improve or deteriorate, and/ or making the effectiveness of guarantee and other credit enhancement improve or deteriorate. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment and Non-Payment Forgiven by Contract

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the rated debt's status in the order of seniority relative to other debts caused by the improvement/ deterioration of the issuer's financial condition. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large. Also, in case of the financial products for which non-payment of interest/ principal is contractually permissible, the credit rating is subject to alteration if and when the likelihood of such non-payment is projected to increase or decrease. The resultant alteration of the credit rating could be by a notch but often as much as a few notches.

F) Rise and Fall in General Economy and Markets

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a rise/ fall in the general economy and/ or the markets inducing the issuer's revenues/ expenses to increase/ decrease and vice versa, etc. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is exceptionally large.

G) Various Events

The credit rating is subject to alteration on occurrence of various events, such as change in the issuer's major shareholders, M&A and other organizational change, accident, violation of the law, litigation, legal/ regulatory change, natural disaster, etc., which are unforeseeable at the time when the credit rating is determined, causing a significant change on the issuer's business bases, financial grounds, etc. The resultant alteration of the credit rating could be by a notch but more often than not as much as a few notches.
