

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

Maruichi Steel Tube Ltd. (security code: 5463)

<Affirmation>

Long-term Issuer Rating: AA-
Outlook: Stable

Rationale

- (1) Maruichi Steel Tube Ltd. (the "Company") is Japan's largest independent manufacturer of electric resistance welded steel tubes, offering its products mainly to construction and automobile sectors. Its strength lies in demand-driven production systems, high production efficiency with focus on steel tubes, etc. The Company is also able to flexibly procure raw materials thanks to its stable trade relations with major blast furnace manufacturers in and outside Japan. Overseas, it has business bases in Asia and the Americas.
- (2) The Company's performance has been solid on the back of robust demand. Gradual revision of selling prices in response to a rise in the prices of steel sheets as raw materials is helping avoid a sharp fall in the profit margin. Supported by steady demand especially for the products for construction and automobile sectors, the Company will probably be able to secure a certain level of profits for a while. Going forward, however, a further rise in raw material prices in Japan is anticipated, as well as a profit decline in the overseas business due to a fall in steel prices in North America. JCR will keep an eye on whether the Company can control a downturn in the earnings by, for instance, raising selling prices and improving overseas operations. On the financial front, the Company is net debt free and thus presents no particular concerns. Based on the above, JCR affirmed the rating on the Company with Stable outlook.
- (3) Ordinary income for the fiscal year ended March 2019 (FY2018) appears to have fallen for the second year running to 21.5 billion yen with a 6.5% year-on-year drop, as per the Company's forecast. As a likely negative factor, selling prices were not raised in a timely fashion to reflect the rise in steel sheet prices. Even though the steel sheet prices are expected to go up even further in FY2019 and beyond, the Company's performance is not likely to weaken significantly as sales volume is projected to remain steady. That said, given that the profit margin is somewhat declining, attention will be paid to whether the Company can improve this margin through gradual price raises.
- (4) Financial base remains solid, as evidenced by the equity ratio standing at 82.3% as of December 31, 2018. Going forward, the Company intends to make investments for facility renewal in Japan and production capacity enhancement overseas, but such spending will likely be commensurate with depreciation expenses more or less and thus have only a limited impact on the financial structure.

2 The version of the procedure or methodology used to determine the credit rating; as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(B) of Rule 17g-7

- Please see the news release.

3 The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and business environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees.
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Business Bases

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's business bases - how they can be maintained/ expanded into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a financial institution might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions).

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as parent company, subsidiary, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7

Also, the changes in the quality of asset under the issuer's holding may affect the credit rating, since such changes could raise or lower the likelihood of future loss of the issuer's financial grounds.
