

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

SCREEN Holdings Co., Ltd. (security code: 7735)

<Affirmation>

Long-term Issuer Rating: A+
Outlook: Stable

Rationale

- (1) SCREEN Holdings Co., Ltd. (the "Company") is the world's largest manufacturer of semiconductor cleaning equipment. It boasts high market shares for such products as single wafer cleaning equipment for cleaning wafers one by one and batch-type cleaning equipment for processing multiple wafers at a time. It also offers coat/develop tracks, etc. in the semiconductor production equipment business. While operating other businesses including FPD production equipment, printing-related equipment and PCB-related equipment, it relies heavily on the semiconductor production equipment business for earnings.
- (2) The Company's performance has been mostly steady. Operating income is projected to shrink from the previous year in the fiscal year ending March 2026 (FY2025) but is nevertheless likely to reach the second highest level on record. Moreover, demand and orders are robust, especially for cutting-edge AI-related devices, and thus FY2026 is expected to achieve strong results. On the financial front, the Company continues to improve equity ratio by expanding equity capital and curbing growth in total assets. Based on the above, JCR affirmed the rating on the Company with Stable outlook.
- (3) Operating income is projected to fall 13.8% over the year to 117 billion yen in FY2025. Despite this first fall after six years, it will still likely top 100 billion yen, as did in the previous year. Negative factors behind this include responses to requests from Chinese semiconductor manufacturers and others in FY2024 to bring forward equipment procurement and expectation that a large-scale Chinese project, for which revenue recognition was scheduled for FY2025, will be postponed to FY2026 because of delays in equipment installation due to customer circumstances.
- (4) As of the end of the third quarter of FY2025, equity capital expanded to 443.1 billion yen from 415.8 billion yen a year before, with its ratio rising to 65.4% from 61.4%. Liquidity on hand as of the same was 184.2 billion yen, far exceeding the interest-bearing debt of 4.0 billion yen. The Company purchased its own stock of 30 billion yen during the period of February to April 2025 but still managed to strengthen the financial base.

The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and business environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees.
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Business Bases

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's business bases - how they can be maintained/ expanded into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a financial institution might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions).

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as parent company, subsidiary, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7

Also, the changes in the quality of asset under the issuer's holding may affect the credit rating, since such changes could raise or lower the likelihood of future loss of the issuer's financial grounds. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the financial grounds and/ or asset quality is large.

The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.
