

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

THE SHIGA BANK, LTD. (security code: 8366)

<Affirmation>

Long-term Issuer Rating: A+
Outlook: Stable

Rationale

- (1) THE SHIGA BANK, LTD. (the "Bank") is a regional bank headquartered in Shiga Prefecture with a fund volume of approximately 5.6 trillion yen. It has a dominant share of around 50% in the prefecture for both deposits (excluding Japan Post Bank) and loans. It also has business bases outside Shiga, mainly in Kyoto and Osaka prefectures. Factors reflected in the rating include the solid business base primarily in Shiga, which is a favorable operating market, good capital level and quality of loan assets. Downward pressure on core net business income is temporarily becoming stronger due to recording of expenses prior to commencement of operation of the next-generation core system. JCR will watch the degree of improvement in core net business income as the system costs will substantially decrease into the future.
- (2) For the fiscal year ended March 2022 (FY2021), core net business income (excluding gains/losses on derivative financial instruments and cancellation of investment trusts) decreased. This was largely attributable to increased expenses relating to the next-generation core system. Costs for FY2022 had also been high; however, core net business income for the first nine months was steady. Fee business where the Bank is putting efforts has been steady both for corporate and individual customers, and fees and commissions are continuously increasing. The Bank increased the balances of loans and securities while diversifying the assets in the portfolio, and interest income has hit the bottom. Although a rise in U.S. dollar short-term market interest rates is putting downward pressure on performance, the Bank has mitigated the impact on profit and loss through changing bonds held and increasing assets, among others. For FY2023 onward, expenses will likely decrease largely due mainly to the fact that expenses relating to the system upgrade will come to the end. Together with the top-line growth, core net business income will head toward improvement, in JCR's view.
- (3) Non-performing loan ratio disclosed under the Financial Reconstruction Act is at a decent level, standing at 1.92% as of December 31, 2022. Although credit cost temporarily increased in FY2020 due to concentration of downgrading of borrower classification, it has settled down since then. Given the Bank adopting conservative provision methods and others, JCR views that credit cost will remain within a range absorbable by periodic profits/losses for the time being.
- (4) Risks involved in securities investment are held down by and large. Although attention needs to be paid to the facts that the balance of stockholdings is large and exposure is concentrated into specific securities, large valuation gains on securities are working as one of the buffers against risks including price fluctuations. In responding to the rising market interest rates in Japan and overseas, the Bank has improved the portfolio by selling low coupon rate bonds and others. Furthermore, it controls risk through implementing interest swap, etc., therefore, the Bank's exposure to interest risk involved in the bondholding is not excessive relative to capital.
- (5) Consolidated common equity Tier 1 ratio stood at 12.62% as of December 31, 2022. Tier 1 ratio adjusted for accumulated other comprehensive income, etc. slightly declined but was at a decent level. Expecting a rise in core capital ratio at the end of March 2023 due partly to early adoption of Basel III Finalization and others, JCR will watch the trend in risk-taking activities and others into the future.

3

The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and business environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees.
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Business Bases

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's business bases - how they can be maintained/ expanded into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a financial institution might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions).

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as parent company, subsidiary, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating herewith presented by JCR is its summary opinion with regard to the likelihood of given debt payment and hence not necessarily a perfect representation of such likelihood. The credit rating is not intended to estimate the probability of default or the loss on given default, either.
- The objective of the credit rating herewith presented does not include any concerns other than the likelihood of debt payment, such as risks of price changes, market liquidity, etc.
- The credit rating herewith presented is necessary to be reviewed along with possible changes of the issuer of rated objects in its business performance and/ or circumstances which include regulatory environment, and hence subject to possible alteration.

Consequently, the credit rating determined on the grounds of such information does not constitute, explicitly or implicitly, any representation or warrant of JCR on the information itself or any consequences of its use in terms of accuracy, relevance, timeliness, wholeness, market value, or usefulness for any specific purposes.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The credit rating is subject to alteration if the issuer increases/ decreases its debt/ capital or vice versa and thereby makes its individual debt payment liability less or more bearable and its loss absorption capacity into the future decreased or increased. Also, the changes in the quality of asset under the issuer's holding may affect the credit rating, since such changes could raise or lower the likelihood of future loss of the issuer's financial grounds. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the financial grounds and/ or asset quality is large.

C) Liquidity Positions

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the issuer's financial management policy or in the relations with fund procurement sources and the change thereby makes its liquidity positions improve or deteriorate. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment and Non-Payment Forgiven by Contract

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the rated debt's status in the order of seniority relative to other debts caused by the improvement/ deterioration of the issuer's financial condition. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large. Also, in case of the financial products for which non-payment of interest/ principal is contractually permissible, the credit rating is subject to alteration if and when the likelihood of such non-payment is projected to increase or decrease. The resultant alteration of the credit rating could be by a notch but often as much as a few notches.

F) Rise and Fall in General Economy and Markets

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a rise/ fall in the general economy and/ or the markets inducing the issuer's revenues/ expenses to increase/ decrease and vice versa, etc. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is exceptionally large.

G) Various Events

The credit rating is subject to alteration on occurrence of various events, such as change in the issuer's major shareholders, M&A and other organizational change, accident, violation of the law, litigation, legal/ regulatory change, natural disaster, etc., which are unforeseeable at the time when the credit rating is determined, causing a significant change on the issuer's business bases, financial grounds, etc. The resultant alteration of the credit rating could be by a notch but more often than not as much as a few notches.
