

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

Mitsubishi Electric Financial Solutions Corporation (security code: -) (Former Mitsubishi Electric Credit Corporation)

<Affirmation>

Long-term Issuer Rating: A-
Outlook: Stable
CP: J-1

Rationale

- (1) Mitsubishi Electric Financial Solutions Corporation (the “Company”) is the only comprehensive finance company in the Mitsubishi Electric Group (the “Group”) and an equity-method affiliate of Mitsubishi Electric Corporation (“MEC”; 45% ownership) and Mitsubishi HC Capital Inc. (45% ownership). It changed its name from Mitsubishi Electric Credit Corporation in October 2022. It engages in credit, financing and other businesses, centering on leasing related to the products and commercial distribution of MEC and the Group. The long-term issuer rating reflects: the relatively good operating base backed by the Company’s ties with the two shareholders; and fairly sound assets and financial base. It also factors in the probability of support based on the Company’s strong ties with the shareholders in terms of capital and human affairs.
- (2) Ordinary income for the fiscal year ended March 2022 (FY2021) came to 2.0 billion yen, down 0.1 billion yen from the previous year due to a decrease in gross profit before deducting funding cost. Transaction volume has fallen sharply since FY2020 due to the COVID crisis, semiconductor shortage, etc. while profitability weakened partly because of the severe competition environment, pushing down gross profit as a result. That said, the fall in transaction volume was curbed in the first half of FY2022, and gross profit remained almost flat from the same period a year before. The Company is taking earnings improvement measures, such as strengthening collaboration with MEC through solution sales, i.e. making proposals in an integrated manner for the use of finance and subsidies; increasing average spreads; and concentrating management resources in areas where highly profitable products are handled. Considering that the Company needs to enhance its earnings capacity, JCR will closely monitor progress in these initiatives.
- (3) Assets are highly sound, by and large. Credit customers are mostly those with high creditworthiness, centering on the Group’s companies, and the amount of bad debts is kept low. As regards vendor leasing, where operating assets are tending to increase, it is well-diversified into small amounts. While attention must be paid to business conditions in industries that are susceptible to high raw material prices, the depreciation of the yen and so forth, given the careful credit stance, conservative provision, etc., JCR considers it unlikely that credit costs will grow sharply.
- (4) Standing at 10.9% as of September 30, 2022 versus 10.4% a year earlier, equity ratio excluding operating assets associated with factoring is tending to improve thanks mainly to a decrease in operating assets. In terms of financing, the Company has a stable indirect financing base, mainly with its main bank. It is also working to diversify financing sources by, for instance, securing direct channels such as CP and securitization of receivables.

3

The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and business environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees.
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Business Bases

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's business bases - how they can be maintained/ expanded into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a financial institution might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions).

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as parent company, subsidiary, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7
