

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

TOYOTA FINANCE CORPORATION (security code: -)

<Affirmation>

Long-term Issuer Rating: AAA
Outlook: Stable

Rationale

- (1) TOYOTA FINANCE CORPORATION (the "Company") is a domestic sales financing company, in which TOYOTA MOTOR CORPORATION ("TOYOTA") has a 100% stake through its financial services company, Toyota Financial Services Corporation ("TFS"). The Company primarily operates sales finance and credit card businesses. It has established close relations with TOYOTA Group in terms of capital, management, sales, financing, etc. Its business relations with the Group is extremely strong with its high strategical significance such as providing sales support. TOYOTA concluded a credit support agreement through TFS indicating TOYOTA's intention to support the Company including holding the entire shares of the Company and providing support for liquidity. In light of the above, JCR assigns the same rating as TOYOTA's long-term issuer rating (AAA/Stable) to the Company.
- (2) In the sales finance, the Company mainly provides credit guarantees for auto credits offered by TOYOTA distributors, and it holds an extremely high market position and competitive power. It also possesses a good customer base in the credit card business with approximately 14 million members, and others. Under COVID-19 pandemic, the Company's operating assets and balance of credit guarantee are growing with a success of promotion of the credit with residual value and others. Transaction volume of credit cards is also recovering from the impact of people's voluntary restraint on going out.
- (3) The Company's earnings capacity is stable. In addition to steady revenue from the sales finance, it has diverse earnings sources including credit card, providing financing to sales distributors, leasing of commercial tracks and busses of Hino Motors, Ltd. Although attention needs to be paid to the impact of production activities restricted by the pandemic given to TOYOTA's new car sales, JCR views the Company will be able to secure steady profit level hereafter backed by the diverse earnings sources.
- (4) The asset quality is good. The impact of COVID-19 pandemic is limited as shown that delinquent receivables ratio and bad debt write-off ratio are hovering at a low level. The Company has mitigated risk of rapid increase in credit cost by making preventive provisions for bad debts in light of the turmoil caused by the pandemic. It has been promoting credit with residual value; however, there is not much concern as its exposure to the residual value risk is immaterial.
- (5) The capital adequacy is at a good level. Equity ratio and capital adequacy against the risk exposure after JCR's adjustments are reasonable. There are no particular concerns over the liquidity as it has established a strong indirect financing base, and direct financing through issuing CP and corporate bonds is also stable.

3

The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and business environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees.
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Business Bases

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's business bases - how they can be maintained/ expanded into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a financial institution might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions).

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as parent company, subsidiary, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7
