

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

TAKASAGO INTERNATIONAL CORPORATION (security code: 4914)

<Affirmation>

Long-term Issuer Rating: A-
Outlook: Stable

Rationale

- (1) Established in 1920, TAKASAGO INTERNATIONAL CORPORATION (the "Company") is Japan's largest flavor and fragrance manufacturer. Besides the flavors and fragrances business that includes the flavors (food flavors), fragrances (fragrances for detergent, air fresheners etc.), aroma ingredients (synthetic aroma ingredients such as menthol) and fine chemicals (pharmaceutical intermediates and so forth), it also handles real estate business using vacant land of research laboratories. It has a long history of overseas development operating bases in 27 countries and regions at the end of March 2023. It focuses on research and development, and the ratio of research and development expenses relative to net sales remains in the 7% range. Other than asymmetric synthesis technology, it has strength in continuous flow manufacturing in the fine chemicals business.
- (2) Although business environment is severe, the Company's favorable business foundation remains unchanged. The fragrances and flavors business has established good relations with a wide range of customers in Japan and abroad, and is continuing business with them in a stable manner. Profits of the said business is susceptible to raw material prices; however, it has been steadily securing profits centering on Asia. In recent years, gaining new products and enhancement of production capacity in the fine chemicals are also the factors supporting the performance. Furthermore, the real estate business in Tokyo is supporting profits as a stable earnings source. Therefore, JCR believes the Company can maintain robust earnings capacity going forward. Based on the above, JCR has affirmed the rating on the Company with Stable outlook.
- (3) For the fiscal year ending March 2024 (FY2023), the Company projects an operating profit of 4 billion yen, down 32.7% from the previous fiscal year. This indicates that the profits will fall to half of that of FY2021 (8.8 billion yen), marked a record high, with negative reasons of rising raw material and energy prices, and increased personnel expenses for personnel reinforcement. Having said that, it will likely be within the range of fluctuation in the past fiscal year. JCR will pay attention to whether the Company can raise performance stability through developing business relations further with existing customers, new customer development and optimizing sales prices in the fragrances and flavor business, and also growth of the fine chemicals business and other factors.
- (4) Shareholders' equity remained at a good level standing at 56.7% at the end of FY2022 (55.2% at the end of FY2021) due to profit accumulation and others. Capital expenditure is expected to exceed the amount of depreciation expenses for the time being due to construction of a research building, enhancement of the production capacity of pharmaceutical intermediates and so forth in addition to maintenance and renewal investments. Interest-bearing debt will likely be on the trend toward slight increase. Given the steady earnings capacity and others, sound financial standing will unlikely deteriorate largely.

3

The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and business environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees.
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Business Bases

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's business bases - how they can be maintained/ expanded into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a financial institution might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions).

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as parent company, subsidiary, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7

The credit rating is subject to alteration if the issuer increases/ decreases its debt/ capital or vice versa and thereby makes its individual debt payment liability less or more bearable and its loss absorption capacity into the future decreased or increased. Also, the changes in the quality of asset under the issuer's holding may affect the credit rating, since such changes could raise or lower the likelihood of future loss of the issuer's financial grounds. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the financial grounds and/ or asset quality is large.

Also, in case of the financial products for which non-payment of interest/ principal is contractually permissible, the credit rating is subject to alteration if and when the likelihood of such non-payment is projected to increase or decrease.
