

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

Japan Metropolitan Fund Investment Corporation (security code: 8953)

<Affirmation>

Long-term Issuer Rating: AA
Outlook: Stable
Bonds: AA

Rationale

- (1) Japan Metropolitan Fund Investment Corporation (“JMF”) is a comprehensive J-REIT, which is sponsored by KKR (KKR & Co. Inc. and its subsidiaries). JMF’s asset manager (“AM”) is KJR Management. Under a vision of “Support metropolitan life (live, work and consume) in Japan from the perspective of real estate,” JMF invests mainly in retail facilities, offices, residences, hotels, and complex facilities for such uses located in urban areas. Its portfolio as of the end of August 2022 consists of 127 properties with a total acquisition price of 1,207.4 billion yen, which is the largest asset size among diversified J-REITs. The percentage by use (on an acquisition price basis) is as follows: urban retail 46.0%, suburban retail 16.4%, office 18.8%, mixed-use 17.4%, hotel 1.0%, and residence 0.4%.
- (2) Steady leasing business operations are continuing. In addition to the progress of asset replacement based on the growth strategy for the time being, sales at and leasing of retail facilities are recovering in line with the relaxation of the action restriction during the COVID-19 pandemic, as shown by an occupancy rate of 99.1% (as of the end of August 2022), records of upward rent revisions due to contract renewals, an NOI yield of 4.4% (for the period ended August 2022), etc. Also given the portfolio with a size of more than 1 trillion yen with diversified properties and tenants, and the form of lease contracts with tenants, which are mostly for fixed rents, among others, JCR sees that JMF will be able to ensure stable portfolio cash flows. On the financial front, sound management is continued in light of the state of leverage control and other factors. Based on the above, JCR has affirmed the ratings on JMF with Stable outlook.
- (3) After its merger with MCUBS MidCity Investment Corporation in March 2021, JMF plans to change the portfolio into an urban-type one and diversify the use of properties, with the direction of reducing the composition ratio of retail facilities to about 50% over the medium term, through asset replacement of just over 200 billion yen. Including the asset replacements scheduled, which was announced on October 19, 2022 in tandem with the earnings results for the period ended August 2022 (acquisition of five residence properties for 10.5 billion yen in total, and transfer of two retail properties for 5.9 billion yen in total), the acquisition price of properties since the merger has reached 108.6 billion yen, and asset replacement has been steadily progressing. In addition, JMF is also engaged in acquiring investment units of private-placement residential REITs and investing in mezzanine loans, among others. JCR therefore is focusing on whether JMF will be able to realize its growth-strategy in line with the view at the time of asset replacement (NOI yield after depreciation: 3% or more), through collaboration with KKR, a new sponsor from April 2022. Regarding internal growth, JCR will follow up on the following: capturing of the upsides of earnings backed by the profitability improvement of retail facilities and offices’ rent gaps, response to the aging of holding properties, and trends in the re-tenanting of properties for which leasing is enhancing, among others.
- (4) The book-value LTV based on total assets was 44.0% (at end-August 2022; the same applies hereinafter), which is controlled within the AM’s assumed range (40-50%). Unrealized gains on the portfolio, which serve as a financial buffer, amount to 157.2 billion yen (unrealized gains ratio: 13.6%). Other track records are shown as follows: maintenance of lender formation led by MUFG Bank, Ltd., diversification of fund-raising methods through issuance of investment corporation bonds (green bonds) against the backdrop of sustainability initiatives, ensuring of liquidity by establishing commitment lines (total borrowing limits: 75 billion yen in total), staggering of repayment deadlines, and an average remaining years of the interest-bearing debt of 4.6 years. Hence, there are no particular concerns about the stability of fund procurement.

3

The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and market environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Portfolios

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's portfolios - how they can be maintained/ enhanced into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a J-REIT might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions) including certainty of refinancing.

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as sponsor, asset manager, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating herewith presented by JCR is its summary opinion with regard to the likelihood of given debt payment and hence not necessarily a perfect representation of such likelihood. The credit rating is not intended to estimate the probability of default or the loss on given default, either.
- The objective of the credit rating herewith presented does not include any concerns other than the likelihood of debt payment, such as risks of price changes, market liquidity, etc.
- The credit rating herewith presented is necessary to be reviewed along with possible changes of the issuer of rated objects in its business performance and/ or circumstances which include regulatory environment, and hence subject to possible alteration.

11 Explanation or Measure of the Potential Volatility of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(K) of Rule 17g-7

A) Portfolios

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is improvement or deterioration of quality, competitive strength and diversification in the issuer's portfolios, since its revenue, etc. may improve or deteriorate by the change in its investment strategies, tenants' preferences, competitive situation, or a technological innovation. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the portfolios is large.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The credit rating is subject to alteration if the issuer increases/ decreases its debt/ capital or vice versa and thereby makes its individual debt payment liability less or more bearable and its loss absorption capacity into the future decreased or increased. Also, the changes in the quality of asset under the issuer's holding may affect the credit rating, since such changes could raise or lower the likelihood of future loss of the issuer's financial grounds. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the financial grounds and/ or asset quality is large.

C) Liquidity Positions

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the issuer's financial management policy or in the relations with fund procurement sources and the change thereby makes its liquidity positions improve or deteriorate. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the issuer's sponsor or asset manager, guarantor or other provider of credit enhancement, or the government of the issuer's business domicile, or other related parties' own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer, and the change thereby makes its portfolios, financial grounds and/ or liquidity positions improve or deteriorate, and/ or making the effectiveness of guarantee and other credit enhancement improve or deteriorate. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment and Non-Payment Forgiven by Contract

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the rated debt's status in the order of seniority relative to other debts caused by the improvement/ deterioration of the issuer's financial condition. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large. Also, in case of the financial products for which non-payment of interest/ principal is contractually permissible, the credit rating is subject to alteration if and when the likelihood of such non-payment is projected to increase or decrease. The resultant alteration of the credit rating could be by a notch but often as much as a few notches.

F) Rise and Fall in General Economy and Markets

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a rise/ fall in the general economy and/ or the markets, of e.g. real estate or interest rates, inducing the issuer's revenues/ expenses to increase/ decrease and vice versa, etc. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is exceptionally large.

G) Various Events

The credit rating is subject to alteration on occurrence of various events, such as change in the issuer's sponsor or asset manager, M&A and other organizational change, accident, violation of the law, litigation, legal/ regulatory change, natural disaster, etc., which are unforeseeable at the time when the credit rating is determined, causing a significant change on the issuer's business bases, financial grounds, etc. The resultant alteration of the credit rating could be by a notch but more often than not as much as a few notches.
