

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

KPP GROUP HOLDINGS CO., LTD. (security code: 9274)

<Assignment>

Long-term Issuer Rating: A-
Outlook: Stable

<Affirmation>

CP: J-1

Rationale

- (1) KPP GROUP HOLDINGS CO., LTD, (the "Company") is a holding company for KPP group that conducts wholesaling of pulp, paper, etc. in and out of Japan. The Company has strong governance over operating companies under its umbrella, as shown by holding all shares in major operating companies, including KOKUSAI PULP&PAPER CO., LTD. ("KOKUSAI PULP&PAPER"), the core of the domestic business, as well as Antalis (Europe) and Spicers Limited (Oceania; "Spicers"). Given the strong unity in the group, JCR reflects the creditworthiness of the entire group in the ratings of the Company. KOKUSAI PULP&PAPER maintains broad business relationships with leading paper manufacturers, and has a stable customer base including companies in the publishing and printing industries. Overseas, the Company has been aggressively expanding its business, acquiring Spicers in 2019, and Antalis, the largest paper trading company in Europe, in 2020.
- (2) JCR on October 3, 2022 changed the domestic CP rating for the Company from "J-2" to "J-1." The rating reflects the significant changes in its business structure and earnings through international M&As. Since then, there have been no events affecting the creditworthiness. JCR this time newly assigned a long-term issuer rating of "A-" with Stable outlook. The global demand for graphic paper is on a declining trend, but its margins are improving at home and abroad due to the rising product market. JCR expects the Company's earnings to remain firm for the time being. Going forward, JCR will pay attention to whether the Company is able to achieve sustainable profit growth through tapping into new growth areas such as packaging and visual communication.
- (3) In the earnings report for the second quarter of the fiscal year ending March 2023 (FY2022) announced on November 14, the Company revised up FY2022 operating profit forecast from 12 billion yen to 21 billion yen. This is mainly because Antalis's performance has been favorable compared to the initial forecasts thanks to several price revisions in the European market and the impact of the yen's depreciation. The domestic business also appears to be seeing an expansion in commissions with multiple price increases. Although attention should be paid to the risk of adjustment in the foreign market going forward, JCR expects that the Company will be able to maintain a higher level of earnings than in the past.
- (4) The financial indicators are on an improving trend, with an equity ratio of 21.1% at the end of the second quarter of FY2022 (19.4% at end-FY2021). Looking ahead, the Company seems to continue to make growth investments to a certain extent mainly through overseas M&As, but large projects that may have a significant impact on the financial structure seem unlikely. Therefore, the Company's financial balance is expected to continue to improve for the foreseeable future.

3

The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and business environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees.
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Business Bases

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's business bases - how they can be maintained/ expanded into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a financial institution might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions).

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as parent company, subsidiary, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating herewith presented by JCR is its summary opinion with regard to the likelihood of given debt payment and hence not necessarily a perfect representation of such likelihood. The credit rating is not intended to estimate the probability of default or the loss on given default, either.
- The objective of the credit rating herewith presented does not include any concerns other than the likelihood of debt payment, such as risks of price changes, market liquidity, etc.
- The credit rating herewith presented is necessary to be reviewed along with possible changes of the issuer of rated objects in its business performance and/ or circumstances which include regulatory environment, and hence subject to possible alteration.

Consequently, the credit rating determined on the grounds of such information does not constitute, explicitly or implicitly, any representation or warrant of JCR on the information itself or any consequences of its use in terms of accuracy, relevance, timeliness, wholeness, market value, or usefulness for any specific purposes.

The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the business bases is large.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The credit rating is subject to alteration if the issuer increases/ decreases its debt/ capital or vice versa and thereby makes its individual debt payment liability less or more bearable and its loss absorption capacity into the future decreased or increased. Also, the changes in the quality of asset under the issuer's holding may affect the credit rating, since such changes could raise or lower the likelihood of future loss of the issuer's financial grounds. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the financial grounds and/ or asset quality is large.

C) Liquidity Positions

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the issuer's financial management policy or in the relations with fund procurement sources and the change thereby makes its liquidity positions improve or deteriorate. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the issuer's parent company or subsidiary, guarantor or other provider of credit enhancement, or the government of the issuer's business domicile, or other related parties' own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer, and the change thereby makes its business bases, financial grounds and/ or liquidity positions improve or deteriorate, and/ or making the effectiveness of guarantee and other credit enhancement improve or deteriorate. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment and Non-Payment Forgiven by Contract

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the rated debt's status in the order of seniority relative to other debts caused by the improvement/ deterioration of the issuer's financial condition. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large. Also, in case of the financial products for which non-payment of interest/ principal is contractually permissible, the credit rating is subject to alteration if and when the likelihood of such non-payment is projected to increase or decrease. The resultant alteration of the credit rating could be by a notch but often as much as a few notches.

F) Rise and Fall in General Economy and Markets

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a rise/ fall in the general economy and/ or the markets inducing the issuer's revenues/ expenses to increase/ decrease and vice versa, etc. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is exceptionally large.

G) Various Events

The credit rating is subject to alteration on occurrence of various events, such as change in the issuer's major shareholders, M&A and other organizational change, accident, violation of the law, litigation, legal/ regulatory change, natural disaster, etc., which are unforeseeable at the time when the credit rating is determined, causing a significant change on the issuer's business bases, financial grounds, etc. The resultant alteration of the credit rating could be by a notch but more often than not as much as a few notches.

The change of the credit rating is assumed to be by a notch but often as much as a few notches.
