

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

TOYOTA BOSHOKU CORPORATION (security code: 3116)

<Affirmation>

Long-term Issuer Rating: AA
Outlook: Stable
Bonds: AA

Rationale

- (1) TOYOTA BOSHOKU CORPORATION (the "Company") is the world's leading interior systems supplier, mainly offering seats and door trims. It is an equity-method affiliate of TOYOTA MOTOR CORPORATION ("TOYOTA MOTOR"), and its net sales to the TOYOTA Group (the "Group") account for over 90% of the total. Considering their relations in terms of capital, human affairs, etc. and the Company's role to develop automotive interior space, for which various changes are expected in the future, the Company is deemed to occupy a key position in the Group, and its ratings therefore reflect TOYOTA MOTOR's creditworthiness.
- (2) The Company has been strengthening its earnings structure amid the lingering harsh environment. It is focusing on controlling demand fluctuation risk by complementing production activities and personnel among the bases. The reorganization of production processes in the Americas will probably help lower the break-even point. Moreover, orders from TOYOTA MOTOR as well as other companies are growing thanks to the proposal of products developed with new technologies and added with new functions. While attention must be paid, for the time being, to the impact of production adjustment by customers, earnings capacity is nevertheless expected to increase in the medium run. On the financial front, the Company maintains the net cash position, which is not likely to weaken. Based on the above, JCR affirmed the ratings on the Company and retained the Stable outlook.
- (3) Operating income for the fiscal year ending March 2023 (FY2022) is forecast at 61.0 billion yen, as opposed to 60.2 billion yen (IFRS) for FY2021. Despite the impact of factors like higher raw material prices and transportation expenses, the income is expected to remain firm on the back of improved production volume and the launch of new products. Yet, attention should be paid, for the time being, to how semiconductor shortage will affect automotive production. As a business goal for FY2025, operating income is targeted at 100-plus billion yen. JCR will keep an eye on progress in the Company's efforts, for instance, to improve the earnings structure by lowering break-even point and so forth and enhance sales to automakers other than TOYOTA MOTOR.
- (4) On the financial front, liquidity on hand constantly exceeds interest-bearing debt outstanding. With steady profit accumulation, the ratio of equity attributable to owners of the parent as of March 31, 2022 came to 40.0%, versus 39.6% a year earlier. Capital expenditures for five years from FY2021 to FY2025 are projected at a bit over 250 billion yen for the development of new products, rationalization and upgrading of production facilities, etc. Given the earnings outlook, JCR assumes that the Company can secure positive free cash flow on the whole.

- Please see the news release. If the credit rating is a private rating, please see the report for private rating.

3 The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and business environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees.
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Business Bases

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's business bases - how they can be maintained/ expanded into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a financial institution might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions).

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as parent company, subsidiary, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating herewith presented by JCR is its summary opinion with regard to the likelihood of given debt payment and hence not necessarily a perfect representation of such likelihood. ## 11 Explanation or Measure of the Potential Volatility of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(K) of Rule 17g-7

A) Business Bases

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is improvement or deterioration of the issuer's business bases, since its revenue, etc. may improve or deteriorate by the change in its business management policies, clients' preferences, competitive situation, or a technological innovation. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the business bases is large.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The credit rating is subject to alteration if the issuer increases/ decreases its debt/ capital or vice versa and thereby makes its individual debt payment liability less or more bearable and its loss absorption capacity into the future decreased or increased. Also, the changes in the quality of asset under the issuer's holding may affect the credit rating, since such changes could raise or lower the likelihood of future loss of the issuer's financial grounds. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the financial grounds and/ or asset quality is large.

C) Liquidity Positions

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the issuer's financial management policy or in the relations with fund procurement sources and the change thereby makes its liquidity positions improve or deteriorate. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the issuer's parent company or subsidiary, guarantor or other provider of credit enhancement, or the government of the issuer's business domicile, or other related parties' own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer, and the change thereby makes its business bases, financial grounds and/ or liquidity positions improve or deteriorate, and/ or making the effectiveness of guarantee and other credit enhancement improve or deteriorate. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment and Non-Payment Forgiven by Contract

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the rated debt's status in the order of seniority relative to other debts caused by the improvement/ deterioration of the issuer's financial condition. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large. Also, in case of the financial products for which non-payment of interest/ principal is contractually permissible, the credit rating is subject to alteration if and when the likelihood of such non-payment is projected to increase or decrease. The resultant alteration of the credit rating could be by a notch but often as much as a few notches.

F) Rise and Fall in General Economy and Markets

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a rise/ fall in the general economy and/ or the markets inducing the issuer's revenues/ expenses to increase/ decrease and vice versa, etc. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is exceptionally large.

G) Various Events
