

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

OBAYASHI CORPORATION (security code: 1802)

<Affirmation>

Long-term Issuer Rating: AA-
Outlook: Stable

Rationale

- (1) OBAYASHI CORPORATION (the "Company") is a general construction company founded in 1892. It is one of the five major construction companies in Japan. The Company has an extensive construction track record in Japan and has built a strong business base. The Company conducts business across five areas: Domestic Construction, which is its core business, Overseas Construction, Real Estate Development, Green Energy, and New Business Initiatives. The Company's overseas operations are centered on North America and Asia. In December 2023, the Company acquired shares of MWH US Acquisitions, Inc., a company specializing in the construction of water treatment facilities. In October 2025, the Company also announced the acquisition of shares in U.S.-based construction companies, including GCON, Inc. The ratio of overseas operations to consolidated net sales for the fiscal year ending March 2025 (FY2024) was 29.2%, which is relatively high among major industry peers.
- (2) Solid earnings are expected over the medium term. Although there were difficult periods for profitability in the Domestic Construction business, profitability at the time of order intake has improved in recent years, and the steady execution of such order backlog is anticipated going forward. Its financial base is also strong. The Company is strengthening growth investments and shareholder returns, but net interest-bearing debt remains low, and equity capital is steadily increasing. Given that prudent financial management is expected to continue, the favorable financial base is likely be maintained. Based on the above, JCR has affirmed the rating on the Company with Stable outlook.
- (3) Operating income for FY2025 is planned at 195.0 billion yen (up 36.9% year on year), marking the second consecutive year of income growth. Cost reductions and the acquisition of additional and change work in the Domestic Construction business, the securing of design changes in the Domestic Civil Engineering business, and improved profitability in the Overseas Construction business are expected to contribute to earnings. Solid performance is also assumed for FY2026. In addition to the projected steady contributions from the Domestic Civil Engineering business and the Overseas Construction business, the Domestic Construction business, which has been affected by inflation in recent years, is also expected to progress operations steadily.
- (4) As of the end of the third quarter of FY2025, the equity ratio was 38.0%, and the net D/E ratio was 0.14x. Through the Medium-Term Business Plan, the Company has strengthened investments and shareholder returns, while advancing the sale of real estate under development and the reduction of strategic shareholdings to maintain financial soundness. Shareholders' equity at the end of the same fiscal period totaled 1,194.1 billion yen, indicating a solid level of financial resilience.

3

The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and business environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees.
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Business Bases

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's business bases - how they can be maintained/ expanded into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a financial institution might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions).

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as parent company, subsidiary, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating herewith presented by JCR is its summary opinion with regard to the likelihood of given debt payment and hence not necessarily a perfect representation of such likelihood. - The objective of the credit rating herewith presented does not include any concerns other than the likelihood of debt payment, such as risks of price changes, market liquidity, etc.
- The credit rating herewith presented is necessary to be reviewed along with possible changes of the issuer of rated objects in its business performance and/ or circumstances which include regulatory environment, and hence subject to possible alteration.

Also, the changes in the quality of asset under the issuer's holding may affect the credit rating, since such changes could raise or lower the likelihood of future loss of the issuer's financial grounds. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the financial grounds and/ or asset quality is large.

The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment and Non-Payment Forgiven by Contract

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the rated debt's status in the order of seniority relative to other debts caused by the improvement/ deterioration of the issuer's financial condition. Also, in case of the financial products for which non-payment of interest/ principal is contractually permissible, the credit rating is subject to alteration if and when the likelihood of such non-payment is projected to increase or decrease.
