

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

SINANEN HOLDINGS CO., LTD. (security code: 8132)

<Affirmation>

Long-term Issuer Rating: A-
Outlook: Stable
CP: J-1

Rationale

- (1) SINANEN HOLDINGS CO., LTD. (the "Company") is the pure holding company of the SINANEN HOLDINGS Group (the "Group"). The Company is engaged in management of group companies, etc., and given the strong management integrity, JCR incorporates the Group's overall creditworthiness into the ratings on the Company. Handling the sales of LP gas and petroleum products as its core businesses, the Group is positioned as one of the leading companies in Japan in terms of the sales of LP gas and kerosene. It also deals in a wide range of other businesses, such as sales of bicycles, share cycle, environment and recycling, production and sales of antimicrobial agents, systems, and building management.
- (2) The Company's earnings have been stable over the long term. Sales of LP gas and petroleum products are expected to continue to underpin results. In addition, in the share cycle business, for which upfront investments and costs were spent, the revenue and expenditure are improving in line with an increase in users. From the fiscal year ending March 2023 (FY2022) onward, the business is expected to contribute to profits. The Company's financial position is favorable, which improved further through asset sales in previous fiscal years. As the Company may make large investments to expand business in the future, JCR needs to pay attention to the scale of its investments and profitability, but for the time being the good financial position will likely be kept. Based on the above, JCR has affirmed the ratings on the Company and retained the Stable outlook.
- (3) Operating income for FY2022 is forecast at 2.5 billion yen, the same level as the previous fiscal year. The decline in income is attributable to the decrease of the positive impact from inventory and the deterioration in trading profits in the petroleum business. However, the recovery in sales of LP gas, petroleum products, housing equipment, etc., and the improvement in the revenue and expenditure of the share cycle business will compensate for the negative factors. Although short-term fluctuations are expected from FY2023 onward due to trends in energy prices and other factors, results will likely remain firm in the medium term.
- (4) The equity ratio at the end of FY2021 was 51.2% (52.9% a year earlier), down slightly but still at a favorable level. Interest-bearing debt is declining due in part to the sale of real estate and investment securities to improve capital efficiency. Since FY2020, the balance of cash and deposits has been above the balance of interest-bearing debt, which suggests no particular concerns on the financial front. Further, progress in the large onshore wind power generation business in South Korea has been delayed, and the timing of the start of commercial operations has not been decided.

3 The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and business environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees.
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Business Bases

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's business bases - how they can be maintained/ expanded into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a financial institution might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions).

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as parent company, subsidiary, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7
