

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

KUREHA CORPORATION (security code: 4023)

<Affirmation>

Long-term Issuer Rating:	A
Outlook:	Stable
Bonds:	A
Shelf Registration:	Preliminary A
CP:	J-1

- (1) KUREHA CORPORATION (the "Company") is a chemical company that mainly manufactures fine and specialty chemicals. It engages in a wide range of businesses including the Advanced Materials, which mainly deals in advanced plastics, Specialty Chemicals for pharmaceuticals and agrochemicals, and Specialty Plastics for household goods and food packaging materials. It has high market shares for polyvinylidene fluoride (PVDF) used as a binder for lithium-ion batteries, household plastic wrap of NEW Krewrap and others. Having the Iwaki Factory (Iwaki City, Fukushima Prefecture) as the core production base, it also has established bases in the U.S. and China to sell differentiated products on a global basis.
- (2) The Company's business performance has been steady. Although the performance of PGA for shale oil and gas extraction has extremely weakened, sales of PVDF and PPS for automobile use will likely increase in the Advanced Materials. The performance of the Specialty Plastics has a sense of stability as it mainly handles plastic wraps for household use, which are not susceptible to economic conditions. JCR views that the Company will be able to maintain a certain level of cash flow generation capability for the time being. In addition, its financial conditions are sound, and enhancement of financial base has progressed in recent years through accumulation of profits on capital, sale of assets and others. Based on the above, JCR has affirmed the ratings on the Company with Stable outlook.
- (3) For the fiscal year ending March 2022 (FY2021), the Company projects the operating income to decrease 13.1% over the previous fiscal year to 15 billion yen. Decreased demand caused by COVID-19 pandemic will be recovering; however, an effect of temporary demand increase relating to disposal of wastes arising from disasters in the previous fiscal year will diminish. While plastic wraps for household use and fish lines in the Advanced Materials will become the stable earnings sources over the medium term, the Company is working to expand production capacities of PVDF and PPS, and their sales for automobile use are expected to increase. In order to strengthen the earnings base further, the Company has to overcome the big issue, improving performance of loss-making PGA. Therefore, JCR will watch the sales trend and earnings structure.
- (4) The Company's financial structure is favorable as shown that the ratio of equity attributable to owners of the parent and DE ratio stood at 72.9% and below 0.2x as of the end of the first quarter of FY 2021 and others. In recent years, the interest-bearing debt has been decreasing due to accumulation of capital by profits together with gains on sales of investment securities and sale of real estate. As a result, the Company's risk resilience increased and now it is in a situation where it can respond to growth investment in a flexible manner. The Company has announced that it substantially increase production capacity of PVDF in China this time. In relation to this, the Company will have to spend a substantial amount going forward; however, JCR views that it will be able to maintain its sound financial condition.

2 The version of the procedure or methodology used to determine the credit rating; as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(B) of Rule 17g-7

- Please see the news release. If the credit rating is a private rating, please see the report for private rating.

3 The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and business environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees.
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Business Bases

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's business bases - how they can be maintained/ expanded into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a financial institution might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions).

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as parent company, subsidiary, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating herewith presented by JCR is its summary opinion with regard to the likelihood of given debt payment and hence not necessarily a perfect representation of such likelihood. The credit rating is not intended to estimate the probability of default or the loss on given default, either.
- The objective of the credit rating herewith presented does not include any concerns other than the likelihood of debt payment, such as risks of price changes, market liquidity, etc.
- The credit rating herewith presented is necessary to be reviewed along with possible changes of the issuer of rated objects in its business performance and/ or circumstances which include regulatory environment, and hence subject to possible alteration.

The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the business bases is large.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The credit rating is subject to alteration if the issuer increases/ decreases its debt/ capital or vice versa and thereby makes its individual debt payment liability less or more bearable and its loss absorption capacity into the future decreased or increased. Also, the changes in the quality of asset under the issuer's holding may affect the credit rating, since such changes could raise or lower the likelihood of future loss of the issuer's financial grounds. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the financial grounds and/ or asset quality is large.

C) Liquidity Positions

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the issuer's financial management policy or in the relations with fund procurement sources and the change thereby makes its liquidity positions improve or deteriorate. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment and Non-Payment Forgiven by Contract

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the rated debt's status in the order of seniority relative to other debts caused by the improvement/ deterioration of the issuer's financial condition. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large. Also, in case of the financial products for which non-payment of interest/ principal is contractually permissible, the credit rating is subject to alteration if and when the likelihood of such non-payment is projected to increase or decrease. The resultant alteration of the credit rating could be by a notch but often as much as a few notches.

F) Rise and Fall in General Economy and Markets

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a rise/ fall in the general economy and/ or the markets inducing the issuer's revenues/ expenses to increase/ decrease and vice versa, etc. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is exceptionally large.

G) Various Events
