

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

ARATA CORPORATION (security code: 2733)

<Affirmation>

Long-term Issuer Rating: A-
Outlook: Stable
Bonds: A-

Rationale

- (1) ARATA CORPORATION (the "Company") is a leading goods wholesaler, which is the second largest in the industry, leaving far behind other wholesalers in the same industry ranking third and below. Having businesses with many manufacturers both in Japan and abroad, it handles a variety of items including cosmetics, detergents, paper products, household products and pet foods. It deals with retailers such as drugstores (DgS) and home centers as its customers, and net sales to DgS account for approximately 50% of the consolidated net sales. In the New Medium-Term Management Plan 2026 (covering the fiscal year ended March 2024 through the fiscal year ending March 2026 (FY2023 - FY2025)), under its theme of Accelerating growth, the Company sets out the policy focusing on strengthening the functions of product procurement/planning and development, and logistics reforms addressing to productivity improvement, among others.
- (2) The performance is expected to be steady. In response to an increase in opportunities of going out along with the COVID-19 reclassified in the Category V Infectious Disease, demand for cosmetics is growing. Under such circumstances, the Company is working on strengthening the proposal capability and expansion of in-store shares. As a result, it is steadily capturing demand for health & beauty products, the Company's focused area. JCR assumes that it can ensure stable earnings capacity in the future as well because nationwide sales and logistics networks and solid business foundation, which includes good business relationships with major customers, remain unchanged. On the financial front, underpinned by stable cash flow generation capacity, JCR assumes that it will be able to maintain sound financial base. Based on the above, JCR has affirmed the ratings on the Company with Stable outlook.
- (3) For FY2023, the Company projects a net sales of 928 billion yen, up 4.1% over the year, and an ordinary profit of 15.7 billion yen, up 14.8% over the year, expecting to reach a new record high. In addition to exclusive and priority distribution products such as cosmetic and haircare products, sales expansion of product items with relatively high gross profit margin, including pet-related products, is behind the profit growth. In the future, an increase in logistic cost and personnel expense is still be the matter of concern; however, it intends to work for profitability improvement through streamlining the operation leveraging IT and sales expansion of pet-related, exclusive/priority distribution products, among others. JCR will keep an eye on whether the Company can further increase the profit level.
- (4) No significant changes are observed in the financial structure as indicated by the equity ratio standing at 32.1% at the end of December 2023 (31.7% at the end of December 2022). In the New Medium-term Management Plan, the Company plans a capital investment of 15 billion yen for three years cumulative for pushing ahead of DX, IT reforms and others. That said, these appear to be executed within the scope of operating cash flow. It is unlikely that financial soundness will be impaired due partly to an increase in equity capital along with profit accumulation, in JCR's view.

3 The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and business environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees.
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Business Bases

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's business bases - how they can be maintained/ expanded into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a financial institution might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions).

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as parent company, subsidiary, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7

Also, the changes in the quality of asset under the issuer's holding may affect the credit rating, since such changes could raise or lower the likelihood of future loss of the issuer's financial grounds. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the financial grounds and/ or asset quality is large.
