

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

JAPAN NUCLEAR FUEL LIMITED (security code: -)

<Affirmation>

Long-term Issuer Rating: A
Outlook: Stable

Rationale

- (1) JAPAN NUCLEAR FUEL LIMITED (“JNFL”) was established in 1992 through the merger between Japan Nuclear Fuel Service Limited, which was engaged in the reprocessing business of spent fuel from nuclear power plants, and Japan Nuclear Fuel Industry Limited, which primarily focused on the uranium enrichment and low-level radioactive waste disposal businesses. The majority of its principal shareholders consist of electric power companies and The Japan Atomic Power Company. A line of its nuclear fuel cycle facilities is located in Rokkasho Mura, Aomori Prefecture. JNFL operates the nuclear fuel cycle businesses, with reprocessing as its core, and engages in uranium enrichment, verified waste storage, low-level radioactive waste disposal, and MOX fuel fabrication businesses.
- (2) There is no change in the stability of the business base and earnings structure. Based on Japan’s nuclear policy, the back end of the nuclear fuel cycle is an important and indispensable process. Thereby, JNFL, undertaking the process, is positioned high. Furthermore, JNFL’s customers are Nuclear Reprocessing and Decommissioning facilitation Organization of Japan (“NuRO”) and electric power companies. Under contracts, JNFL secures the necessary funds for long-term business operations and investments, so there are no particular financial concerns. Currently, the construction of a reprocessing plant, aimed to be completed in the fiscal year ending March 2027 (FY2026), seems to be under way, but it is necessary to continue monitoring the progress of construction and the operational status after opening. Considering the above, JCR has affirmed the rating on JNFL with Stable outlook.
- (3) The Basic Energy Plan of Japan adopts the promotion of the nuclear fuel cycle, which reprocesses spent fuel from nuclear power plants and effectively use recovered uranium and plutonium, as a fundamental policy. Under the policy, NuRO, established in 2016, serves as the main body to operate the reprocessing business and JNFL is position as a contractor to perform the said business. Although profitability is modest in line with a balanced budget, JNFL prioritizes the public interest, which heightens the feasibility of fulfilling business contracts. As a trend, the profit level and financial structure are stable, and JCR sees this trend will continue over the medium- to long-term. Even if additional expenses are incurred, JCR assumes that the medium- to long-term impact on the earning capacity and financial base will be avoided through subsequent recovery based on the contract and economic rationality.
- (4) The establishment of Japan’s nuclear fuel cycle is still halfway, and the smooth business development of JNFL is considered essential. From a long-term perspective, it is necessary to carefully assess the business operations, focusing on the following points: 1) completion of a reprocessing plant and the MOX fuel fabrication plant scheduled for FY2027, 2) stabilization of the verified waste storage business and uranium enrichment business, and 3) maintenance of the financial/personnel support from electric power companies that underwrite debt guarantees.

The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and business environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees.
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Business Bases

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's business bases - how they can be maintained/ expanded into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a financial institution might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions).

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as parent company, subsidiary, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7
