

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

Sankyo Tateyama, Inc. (security code: 5932)

<Affirmation>

Long-term Issuer Rating: BBB-
Outlook: Stable

Rationale

- (1) Sankyo Tateyama, Inc. (the "Company") is a major sash manufacturer. Its construction materials business which handles mainstay aluminum sashes has strength in sales channels to distribution agents. The Company also engages in materials business dealing in aluminum billets and extrusion products, and commercial facilities business dealing in fixtures, billboards, etc. for retail stores. Through acquisition of aluminum businesses in Europe and Thailand in 2015, the Company has fully expanded business overseas.
- (2) The Company's performance is on a recovery trend. With the number of constructions and capital investments recovering, store renovation investments in the retail sector are picking up. The Company is expanding net sales by tapping into such demands. In addition, its earnings position has become stronger than before through implementation of production rationalization, cost reduction, etc. Meanwhile, because the business environment, such as raw material price trends, remains unclear, JCR will confirm its impact on the performance. The current level of financial structure is expected to be maintained. Based on the above, JCR has affirmed the rating on the Company with Stable outlook.
- (3) Operating income for the fiscal year ending May 2022 (FY2021) is projected to be 3.9 billion yen (4.5 billion yen in the previous period). Despite the impact of high aluminum ingot prices, a certain level of income is kept through sales price hikes and earnings improvement measures. For the construction materials business, resilience to fluctuations in ingot prices seems to be stronger than before, but JCR will follow up on future trends of raw material prices and price hike effects. In Europe, effects of reform measures are gradually bringing results, and deficits in the global business have been narrowing, as shown by strong sales of auto products in Thailand.
- (4) There have been no significant changes in the financial structure, with the equity ratio of 30.5% at the end of the third quarter of FY2021. There were concerns about impairment loss on fixed assets due to the COVID-19 pandemic, but there was no impairment in the equity capital and the past level of financial position has been maintained. Going forward, although the Company intends to continue to make aggressive capital investments to produce new products and response to environmental issues, given its policy to push ahead with financial improvement, it will control investments according to the cash flow status, in JCR's view.

3 The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and business environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees.
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Business Bases

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's business bases - how they can be maintained/ expanded into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a financial institution might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions).

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as parent company, subsidiary, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The credit rating is subject to alteration if the issuer increases/ decreases its debt/ capital or vice versa and thereby makes its individual debt payment liability less or more bearable and its loss absorption capacity into the future decreased or increased. Also, the changes in the quality of asset under the issuer's holding may affect the credit rating, since such changes could raise or lower the likelihood of future loss of the issuer's financial grounds. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the financial grounds and/ or asset quality is large.

C) Liquidity Positions

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the issuer's financial management policy or in the relations with fund procurement sources and the change thereby makes its liquidity positions improve or deteriorate. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

Also, in case of the financial products for which non-payment of interest/ principal is contractually permissible, the credit rating is subject to alteration if and when the likelihood of such non-payment is projected to increase or decrease.
