

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

Japan Excellent, Inc. (security code: 8987)

<Affirmation>

Long-term Issuer Rating: AA-
Outlook: Stable
Bonds: AA-

Rationale

- (1) Japan Excellent, Inc. ("JEI") is a J-REIT that primarily invests in office buildings located in major metropolitan areas, especially in Tokyo's six central wards. Japan Excellent Asset Management Co., Ltd. ("JEAM") responsible for its asset management is sponsored mainly by NIPPON STEEL KOWA REAL ESTATE CO., LTD. ("NSKRE"; 54% ownership) and Dai-ichi Life Holdings, Inc. ("Dai-ichi Life HD"; 36%) and also by Mizuho Bank, Ltd. and Mizuho Trust & Banking Co., Ltd. ("MHTB"), each having 5% ownership. Under this multi-sponsor structure, JEAM receives various forms of support from each of the sponsors for property acquisition, property management, financial operations and human resources. JEI's portfolio as of November 30, 2025 consisted of 34 properties with a total acquisition price of 292.1 billion yen.
- (2) While selling Kowa Kawasaki Higashiguchi Building with a risk of tenant concentration due to single tenant leasing, aging JEI Hamamatsucho Building and other properties, JEI has acquired ARK Hills Front Tower from an SPC funded by NSKRE, which shows progress in its efforts to lower the average property age and diversify tenants. The collaborative framework with sponsors during these asset replacements remained unchanged. In terms of property management, a high occupancy rate is maintained for the entire portfolio, standing at 97.8% as of October 31, 2025, and steady rent increases have also been realized. On the financial front, given such factors as the status of LTV control through asset replacement, sound financial management is continued. Based on the above, JCR affirmed the ratings on JEI and retained the Stable outlook.
- (3) JEI has achieved certain results in its efforts over the past few years to improve portfolio quality through strategic asset replacement. It has almost completed the transfer of low-performing properties while acquiring highly competitive properties, including those developed by the sponsors. Looking ahead, with an aim to further improve portfolio quality, it intends to transfer roughly 10% of the portfolio properties, mainly low-yielding ones, so as to expand the asset size over the medium term. JCR continues watching trends in asset replacement through portfolio management by JEAM, progress in the expansion of the size and diversification of the entire portfolio, further improvement in portfolio quality, trends in LTV control and so forth.
- (4) In terms of debt financing, JEI has a stable financial base mainly through borrowings from sponsors Mizuho Bank, Dai-ichi Life HD and MHTB. It also continues financing aimed at fixing interest rates, staggering the average remaining maturity of interest-bearing debt and varying repayment amounts and thus appears to have a decent level of tolerance to the risk of a rise in interest rates. Total asset-based LTV as of June 30, 2025 temporarily rose to 45.1%, but in any event sound financial management is continued, as evidence by the fact that it was controlled at a level in the lower 40% range in the past. Furthermore, given also that availability risk has been mitigated through the establishment of commitment lines of 14 billion yen in total, JCR finds no particular concerns about finances.

The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and market environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Portfolios

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's portfolios - how they can be maintained/ enhanced into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a J-REIT might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions) including certainty of refinancing.

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as sponsor, asset manager, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating herewith presented by JCR is its summary opinion with regard to the likelihood of given debt payment and hence not necessarily a perfect representation of such likelihood. The credit rating is not intended to estimate the probability of default or the loss on given default, either.
- The objective of the credit rating herewith presented does not include any concerns other than the likelihood of debt payment, such as risks of price changes, market liquidity, etc.
- The credit rating herewith presented is necessary to be reviewed along with possible changes of the issuer of rated objects in its business performance and/ or circumstances which include regulatory environment, and hence subject to possible alteration.

11 Explanation or Measure of the Potential Volatility of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(K) of Rule 17g-7

A) Portfolios

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is improvement or deterioration of quality, competitive strength and diversification in the issuer's portfolios, since its revenue, etc. may improve or deteriorate by the change in its investment strategies, tenants' preferences, competitive situation, or a technological innovation. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the portfolios is large.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The credit rating is subject to alteration if the issuer increases/ decreases its debt/ capital or vice versa and thereby makes its individual debt payment liability less or more bearable and its loss absorption capacity into the future decreased or increased. Also, the changes in the quality of asset under the issuer's holding may affect the credit rating, since such changes could raise or lower the likelihood of future loss of the issuer's financial grounds. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the financial grounds and/ or asset quality is large.

C) Liquidity Positions

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the issuer's financial management policy or in the relations with fund procurement sources and the change thereby makes its liquidity positions improve or deteriorate. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the issuer's sponsor or asset manager, guarantor or other provider of credit enhancement, or the government of the issuer's business domicile, or other related parties' own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer, and the change thereby makes its portfolios, financial grounds and/ or liquidity positions improve or deteriorate, and/ or making the effectiveness of guarantee and other credit enhancement improve or deteriorate. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment and Non-Payment Forgiven by Contract

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the rated debt's status in the order of seniority relative to other debts caused by the improvement/ deterioration of the issuer's financial condition. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large. Also, in case of the financial products for which non-payment of interest/ principal is contractually permissible, the credit rating is subject to alteration if and when the likelihood of such non-payment is projected to increase or decrease. The resultant alteration of the credit rating could be by a notch but often as much as a few notches.

F) Rise and Fall in General Economy and Markets

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a rise/ fall in the general economy and/ or the markets, of e.g. real estate or interest rates, inducing the issuer's revenues/ expenses to increase/ decrease and vice versa, etc. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is exceptionally large.

G) Various Events

The credit rating is subject to alteration on occurrence of various events, such as change in the issuer's sponsor or asset manager, M&A and other organizational change, accident, violation of the law, litigation, legal/ regulatory change, natural disaster, etc., which are unforeseeable at the time when the credit rating is determined, causing a significant change on the issuer's business bases, financial grounds, etc. The resultant alteration of the credit rating could be by a notch but more often than not as much as a few notches.
