

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

COSMO ENERGY HOLDINGS COMPANY, LIMITED (security code: 5021)

<Rating Change>

Long-term Issuer Rating:	from BBB+ to A-
Outlook:	Stable
Subordinated Loan:	from BBB- to BBB
Shelf Registration:	from Preliminary BBB+ to Preliminary A-
CP:	from J-2 to J-1

Rationale

- (1) COSMO ENERGY HOLDINGS COMPANY, LIMITED (the "Company") is the pure holding company of the COSMO ENERGY Group (the "Group"). The Group engages in refining and distribution of petroleum products as the mainstay business, as well as oil exploration/production and manufacture of petrochemical products. It is also focusing on expanding the renewable energy business centering on wind power generation as moves towards decarbonization are accelerating. The Company assumes the roles of optimizing the Group's business portfolio, supporting operating companies' business execution and so forth. Given such strong management integrity, JCR reflects the Group's creditworthiness in the Company's rating.
- (2) The Company has been faring well. Operating rates of its refineries remain relatively high compared to the peers', which, together with steady margins on petroleum products in Japan, are helping push up profits. The oil exploration and production business has also become more profitable with a rise in crude oil prices. Moreover, as net income has built up thanks partly to positive inventory impact, equity capital has grown significantly. Financial structure is improving rapidly, previously a challenge for the Company, with a decrease in interest-bearing debt as a result of the completion of large-scale investments. Based on the above, JCR upgraded the ratings on the Company by one notch and retained the Stable outlook.
- (3) Ordinary income (excluding inventory impact) for the fiscal year ending March 2023 (FY2022) is forecast at 150 billion yen, down 6.7% from the previous year. Although it will drop from FY2021's record high, it nevertheless is expected to remain high. While factors like an increase in refinery fuel costs in the petroleum business due to rising crude oil prices will drag down the income, this will likely be offset by income growth in the oil exploration and production business to a certain extent. JCR assumes that overall performance excluding inventory impact will remain solid into FY2023 and beyond, despite the impact of fluctuations in crude oil prices and exchange rates.
- (4) As of March 31, 2022, equity ratio and D/E ratio were 24.3% and 1.4x (after evaluation of equity content of subordinated loan), improving substantially from 19.9% and 2.0x a year before. Although the decrease in interest-bearing debt will likely slow down due to an increase in working capital, the financial structure is expected to keep improving in FY2022 and beyond thanks to growth in equity capital with profit accumulation.

3 The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and business environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees.
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Business Bases

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's business bases - how they can be maintained/ expanded into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a financial institution might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions).

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7

Also, the changes in the quality of asset under the issuer's holding may affect the credit rating, since such changes could raise or lower the likelihood of future loss of the issuer's financial grounds. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the financial grounds and/ or asset quality is large.

The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment and Non-Payment Forgiven by Contract

Also, in case of the financial products for which non-payment of interest/ principal is contractually permissible, the credit rating is subject to alteration if and when the likelihood of such non-payment is projected to increase or decrease. The resultant alteration of the credit rating could be by a notch but often as much as a few notches.

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a rise/ fall in the general economy and/ or the markets inducing the issuer's revenues/ expenses to increase/ decrease and vice versa, etc. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is exceptionally large.
