

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

THE BANK OF KOCHI, LTD. (security code: 8416)

<Affirmation>

Long-term Issuer Rating: BBB
Outlook: Stable

Rationale

- (1) THE BANK OF KOCHI, LTD. (the "Bank") is a regional bank II headquartered in Kochi City, Kochi Prefecture with a fund volume of 1 trillion yen. It has a decent business base in the prefecture with a market share of the upper 10% range for deposits (excluding Japan Post Bank) and the mid-20% range for loans. In addition, capital adequacy is maintained at a level commensurate with the rating, and these factors support the rating. Whether the Bank can curb the decline in core net business income (excluding gains on cancellation of investment trusts) going forward to secure a certain level of margin against increases in credit costs is a key to the rating decisions.
- (2) Core net business income showed a 20% year-on-year fall in the fiscal year ended March 2023 due primarily to an increase in foreign currency financing costs. It dropped 30% over the year in the nine months through December 2023 partly because of higher expenses related to system investment, and ROA based on this income fell to the 0.1% level. Factors like system-related expenses and foreign currency financing costs are likely to keep dragging down earnings improvement for a while longer. On the other hand, while the repayments of COVID-related loans are accelerating, the loan balance has been leveling off, by and large, thanks in part to efforts to boost marketable loans. JCR will watch whether the Bank can maintain and improve core net business income by keeping loan yields on the improvement trend to achieve a steady increase in interest income.
- (3) Non-performing loans ratio under the Financial Reconstruction Act is high, standing at just below 4% as of December 31, 2023. Because many of the debtors classified as other debtors requiring caution are left with large uncovered claims, credit costs tend to increase due to the factors pertaining to individual borrowers. Credit costs for the nine months through December 2023 were close to zero because of the recording of a gain on reversal of allowance for doubtful accounts, but the amount of non-performing loans disposed of increased slightly from the same period of the previous year due to factors pertaining to large borrowers. Changes in the business conditions of borrowers triggered by surging raw materials prices, etc. require continued attention. In terms of securities investment, while shifting its focus from foreign currency-denominated bonds to yen-denominated bonds, the Bank is controlling the interest rate risk of bond holdings at a certain level. Investment in stocks and investment trusts is contained, and JCR finds no major changes price fluctuation risk. The Bank intends to continue controlling the outstanding balance of securities at around the current level for the time being, and thus market risks are unlikely to increase significantly.
- (4) Consolidated core capital ratio adjusted for the equity content of preferred stock, etc. as of September 30, 2023 was in the lower 7% range. Although the Bank paid off public funds in September 2023, the actual capital level still ranks in the middle among regional banks in JCR's BBB rating category. Given that risk assets are not likely to increase significantly even in the future, JCR assumes that the Bank can maintain the current level of capital.

The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and business environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees.
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Business Bases

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's business bases - how they can be maintained/ expanded into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a financial institution might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions).

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as parent company, subsidiary, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7

- The objective of the credit rating herewith presented does not include any concerns other than the likelihood of debt payment, such as risks of price changes, market liquidity, etc.
- The credit rating herewith presented is necessary to be reviewed along with possible changes of the issuer of rated objects in its business performance and/ or circumstances which include regulatory environment, and hence subject to possible alteration.

Also, the changes in the quality of asset under the issuer's holding may affect the credit rating, since such changes could raise or lower the likelihood of future loss of the issuer's financial grounds. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the financial grounds and/ or asset quality is large.
