

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

SMFG India Credit Company Limited (security code: -)

<Affirmation>

Foreign Currency Long-term Issuer Rating: AA-
Outlook: Stable

Rationale

- (1) SMFG India Credit Company Limited ("SMICC") is a non-banking financial company of SMBC Group and is primarily engaged in providing loans to individuals and small businesses in India. The rating is assessed based on SMBC Group's creditworthiness equivalent to "AA". Sumitomo Mitsui Financial Group ("SMFG") holds 100% of SMICC's voting rights, and management control and risk management are conducted in an integrated manner with the group. Including the nomination of directors, SMFG's degree of control and involvement is correspondingly strong. SMBC Group is promoting its Asia multi-franchise strategy and SMICC continues to play a core role in the group's India business. Therefore, its management importance to SMFG remains unchanged. Based on the above, the rating has been affirmed with Stable outlook. Considering the strong likelihood of extraordinary support from its ultimate parent, SMFG, located outside India, the rating is assessed to exceed the country ceiling of the Republic of India ("A-"). SMBC Group established its India Headquarters in April 2025 and has been working to accelerate the growth of its India business and improve operational efficiency. JCR is closely monitoring future developments.
- (2) The Indian economy continued to record high growth in 2025, with the country's consumer credit market expanding steadily. Meanwhile, outstanding loans in the microfinance sector have entered an adjustment phase, mainly for group loans (made by treating multiple borrowers as a single group), amid the growing caution over higher-risk lending and a review of credit standards. SMICC had established branches across India and expanded to 1,008 by the end of March 2025. However, as part of its review of credit operations and strengthening of risk management, it restructured its branch network to 989 by the end of September 2025.
- (3) Supported by the expansion of the domestic market, SMICC's loan portfolio continued to grow and its consolidated operating income for FY2025 reached INR 101.3 billion, a significant 25% increase from the previous year. On the other hand, its consolidated net profit fell 34% year on year to INR 4.4 billion due mainly to higher collection and legal expenses largely in the microfinance segment. A similar trend persisted in the first half of FY2026. While operating income rose 25% year on year to INR 51.8 billion, net profit dropped 97% to INR 0.08 billion due to increased credit-related costs. Nevertheless, the balance of group loans as a share of the total loan portfolio has now decreased to around 3%. JCR considers that the upward pressure on expenses and credit costs particularly in the microfinance segment has largely peaked out and expects SMICC's profitability to improve going forward.
- (4) Financial support to SMICC from SMFG has been substantial. SMICC received a capital injection of USD 350 million in December 2024, followed by a total of USD 380 million in loans extended in June 2025 and January 2026. As of the end of September 2025, its non-consolidated capital adequacy ratio stood at 19.6%, sufficiently higher than the 15% required by domestic regulations. Its credit exposures are well diversified into small-ticket loans and approximately 50% of its consolidated lending is secured by real estate or other collateral. As of the end of March 2025, its standalone net nonperforming loan ratio stood relatively sound at 1.3%. Although loan assets continue to grow faster than equity accumulation through earnings, the resulting changes in SMICC's capital structure can directly affect its funding costs. This gives the parent company, SMFG, a strong incentive to maintain SMICC's financial soundness. JCR believes that the likelihood of continued support from SMFG is high and that SMICC's financial soundness will be maintained going forward.

3

The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and business environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees.
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Business Bases

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's business bases - how they can be maintained/ expanded into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a financial institution might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions).

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as parent company, subsidiary, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating herewith presented by JCR is its summary opinion with regard to the likelihood of given debt payment and hence not necessarily a perfect representation of such likelihood. The credit rating is not intended to estimate the probability of default or the loss on given default, either.
- The objective of the credit rating herewith presented does not include any concerns other than the likelihood of debt payment, such as risks of price changes, market liquidity, etc.
- The credit rating herewith presented is necessary to be reviewed along with possible changes of the issuer of rated objects in its business performance and/ or circumstances which include regulatory environment, and hence subject to possible alteration.

Also, the changes in the quality of asset under the issuer's holding may affect the credit rating, since such changes could raise or lower the likelihood of future loss of the issuer's financial grounds. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the financial grounds and/ or asset quality is large.

The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

Also, in case of the financial products for which non-payment of interest/ principal is contractually permissible, the credit rating is subject to alteration if and when the likelihood of such non-payment is projected to increase or decrease.
