Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

Daiwa Hotel Private Investment Corporation (security code: -)

<Affirmation>
Long-term Issuer Rating: A
Outlook: Stable

Rationale

(1) Daiwa Hotel Private Investment Corporation (“DHP”) started operations in June 2018 is an unlisted open-ended investment corporation specializing in hotels. It primarily invests in accommodation-focused hotels with relatively low operational risks in major cities, including the 23 wards of Tokyo. Daiwa Securities Group Inc. as its sponsor is pressing ahead with the expansion of the real estate asset management business, and asset manager Daiwa Real Estate Asset Management Co. Ltd. has assets under management of over 1.6 trillion yen, including those of DHP.

(2) In the past year, the asset size expanded to 17 properties with a total acquisition price of 77.7 billion yen through property acquisitions accompanied by additional issuances of investment units, and portfolio diversification has progressed. While the hotel market remains solid on the back of expanding inbound tourism and leisure demand, DHP maintains a high occupancy rate and increasing RevPAR. Accordingly, its performance is trending steadily, with variable rent income growing. With the suppression of hotel supply and an expansion of accommodation demand expected, the earnings environment is likely to remain favorable. In addition, backed by the sponsor group’s enhanced property sourcing capabilities, the development of the foundation for external growth is under way. On the financial side, generally stable financial management is maintained through LTV management and a lender composition. Based on the above, JCR has affirmed the rating on DHP with Stable outlook.

(3) While the concentration on the largest operator in the current portfolio remains high, concerns regarding its financial side have been largely dispelled as the operator’s performance recovers. In addition, for a listed operator that began transactions in 2025, the business base is being strengthened against the back of expanding collaboration with external partners, including the Daiwa Securities Group Inc. Going forward, the concentration on the largest operator is expected to be mitigated through the expansion of transactions with the listed operator. Currently, as shown by the acquisition results of development projects through Daiwa Securities Realty Co. Ltd. under the sponsor group, DHP is expanding the pipeline of accommodation-specialized hotels, primarily in the 23 wards of Tokyo. Since the hotel-specialized investment strategy has relatively high volatility, JCR will continue to monitor efforts toward external growth, specifically how to enhance portfolio stability through diversification of properties, areas, hotel types and operators.

(4) On the financial side, although additional borrowing sometimes precedes property acquisitions to ensure agility, the LTV is maintained at around 40% by repaying loans through subsequent investment unit issuances. A stable funding structure is maintained through a lender composition centered on major banks. JCR will continue to follow the progress of stabilizing the financial base, including lengthening borrowing terms, staggering repayment maturities, and equity financing.

3 The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and market environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Portfolios

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's portfolios - how they can be maintained/ enhanced into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a J-REIT might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions) including certainty of refinancing.

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as sponsor, asset manager, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating herewith presented by JCR is its summary opinion with regard to the likelihood of given debt payment and hence not necessarily a perfect representation of such likelihood. - The objective of the credit rating herewith presented does not include any concerns other than the likelihood of debt payment, such as risks of price changes, market liquidity, etc.

11 Explanation or Measure of the Potential Volatility of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(K) of Rule 17g-7

A) Portfolios

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is improvement or deterioration of quality, competitive strength and diversification in the issuer's portfolios, since its revenue, etc. may improve or deteriorate by the change in its investment strategies, tenants' preferences, competitive situation, or a technological innovation. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the portfolios is large.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The credit rating is subject to alteration if the issuer increases/ decreases its debt/ capital or vice versa and thereby makes its individual debt payment liability less or more bearable and its loss absorption capacity into the future decreased or increased. Also, the changes in the quality of asset under the issuer's holding may affect the credit rating, since such changes could raise or lower the likelihood of future loss of the issuer's financial grounds. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the financial grounds and/ or asset quality is large.

C) Liquidity Positions

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the issuer's financial management policy or in the relations with fund procurement sources and the change thereby makes its liquidity positions improve or deteriorate. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the issuer's sponsor or asset manager, guarantor or other provider of credit enhancement, or the government of the issuer's business domicile, or other related parties' own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer, and the change thereby makes its portfolios, financial grounds and/ or liquidity positions improve or deteriorate, and/ or making the effectiveness of guarantee and other credit enhancement improve or deteriorate. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment and Non-Payment Forgiven by Contract

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the rated debt's status in the order of seniority relative to other debts caused by the improvement/ deterioration of the issuer's financial condition. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large. Also, in case of the financial products for which non-payment of interest/ principal is contractually permissible, the credit rating is subject to alteration if and when the likelihood of such non-payment is projected to increase or decrease. The resultant alteration of the credit rating could be by a notch but often as much as a few notches.

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a rise/ fall in the general economy and/ or the markets, of e.g. real estate or interest rates, inducing the issuer's revenues/ expenses to increase/ decrease and vice versa, etc. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is exceptionally large.

G) Various Events

The credit rating is subject to alteration on occurrence of various events, such as change in the issuer's sponsor or asset manager, M&A and other organizational change, accident, violation of the law, litigation, legal/ regulatory change, natural disaster, etc., which are unforeseeable at the time when the credit rating is determined, causing a significant change on the issuer's business bases, financial grounds, etc. The resultant alteration of the credit rating could be by a notch but more often than not as much as a few notches.
