

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

ZENSHO HOLDINGS CO., LTD. (security code: 7550)

<Assignment>

Bonds: BBB+

Rationale

- (1) ZENSHO HOLDINGS CO., LTD. (the "Company") is Japan's largest restaurant chain group. Offering a wide selection of dining options, including "Sukiya" gyudon (bowl of rice topped with beef) restaurants, "Coco's" family dining restaurants and "Hamazushi" conveyor-belt sushi restaurants, it operates 10,078 stores (as of the end of March 2022) at home and abroad. In an effort to become the world's No. 1 company in the food industry, it has been aggressively opening more "Sukiya" restaurants in China in recent years while accelerating business development in the U.S. through Advanced Fresh Concepts Corp. ("AFC"), which was acquired in November 2018. JCR announced on October 27, 2021 the upgrade of the Company's long-term issuer rating to BBB+. Since then there have been no events affecting the rating.
- (2) Operating income for the fiscal year ended March 2022 (FY2021) plunged 23.6% from the previous year to 9.2 billion yen. Not only restrictions on operating hours of the stores were continued and even enhanced in and outside Japan due to the prolonging COVID crisis, but the prices of beef as the main ingredient also went up, which dragged down the income. On the other hand, with the posting of the government subsidy for shortened operating hours, net income attributable to owners of parent amounted to 13.8 billion yen, outstripping the pre-COVID level of 11.9 billion yen for FY2019. The income is projected to climb 170.8% to 25.0 billion yen in FY2022. While the Company has strength in its solid earnings base centering on "Sukiya" and "Hamazushi" restaurants and AFC, attention must be paid to the current business environment, such as uncertainty as to when the pandemic will tail off and global price hikes. JCR will keep an eye on the Company's moves to see whether the Company can achieve business recovery early at the operating income level by implementing marketing and cost-cutting measures in a timely and appropriate manner.
- (3) Equity capital and its ratio as of the end of FY2021 was 138.3 billion yen and 32.4% (after consideration of equity content of the subordinated loan), as opposed to 120.3 billion yen and 30.4% a year before. The Company intends to accelerate investment under the new medium-term business plan, but, given its cash flow generation capacity, JCR considers that equity capital will also expand. There is little concern about a sharp increase in financial risks. The funds to be raised by the bond issue will be appropriated for the repayment of the borrowings, etc. financed for the implementation of the projects that meet eligibility criteria defined in the Company's sustainability finance framework, and the issue will not affect the financial structure.

* JCR has assigned a Sustainability Finance Framework Evaluation "SU 1(F)" to the framework for the bonds rated hereunder. For the details, please refer to JCR's press release 22-D-0126. JCR's sustainable finance evaluation is different from its credit rating and does not promise to provide or make publicly available a predetermined credit rating.

The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and business environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees.
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Business Bases

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's business bases - how they can be maintained/ expanded into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a financial institution might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions).

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as parent company, subsidiary, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating herewith presented by JCR is its summary opinion with regard to the likelihood of given debt payment and hence not necessarily a perfect representation of such likelihood. The credit rating is not intended to estimate the probability of default or the loss on given default, either.
- The objective of the credit rating herewith presented does not include any concerns other than the likelihood of debt payment, such as risks of price changes, market liquidity, etc.
- The credit rating herewith presented is necessary to be reviewed along with possible changes of the issuer of rated objects in its business performance and/ or circumstances which include regulatory environment, and hence subject to possible alteration.

11 Explanation or Measure of the Potential Volatility of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(K) of Rule 17g-7

A) Business Bases

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is improvement or deterioration of the issuer's business bases, since its revenue, etc. may improve or deteriorate by the change in its business management policies, clients' preferences, competitive situation, or a technological innovation. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the business bases is large.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The credit rating is subject to alteration if the issuer increases/ decreases its debt/ capital or vice versa and thereby makes its individual debt payment liability less or more bearable and its loss absorption capacity into the future decreased or increased. Also, the changes in the quality of asset under the issuer's holding may affect the credit rating, since such changes could raise or lower the likelihood of future loss of the issuer's financial grounds. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the financial grounds and/ or asset quality is large.

C) Liquidity Positions

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the issuer's financial management policy or in the relations with fund procurement sources and the change thereby makes its liquidity positions improve or deteriorate. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the issuer's parent company or subsidiary, guarantor or other provider of credit enhancement, or the government of the issuer's business domicile, or other related parties' own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer, and the change thereby makes its business bases, financial grounds and/ or liquidity positions improve or deteriorate, and/ or making the effectiveness of guarantee and other credit enhancement improve or deteriorate. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment and Non-Payment Forgiven by Contract

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the rated debt's status in the order of seniority relative to other debts caused by the improvement/ deterioration of the issuer's financial condition. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large. Also, in case of the financial products for which non-payment of interest/ principal is contractually permissible, the credit rating is subject to alteration if and when the likelihood of such non-payment is projected to increase or decrease. The resultant alteration of the credit rating could be by a notch but often as much as a few notches.

F) Rise and Fall in General Economy and Markets

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a rise/ fall in the general economy and/ or the markets inducing the issuer's revenues/ expenses to increase/ decrease and vice versa, etc. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is exceptionally large.

G) Various Events

The credit rating is subject to alteration on occurrence of various events, such as change in the issuer's major shareholders, M&A and other organizational change, accident, violation of the law, litigation, legal/ regulatory change, natural disaster, etc., which are unforeseeable at the time when the credit rating is determined, causing a significant change on the issuer's business bases, financial grounds, etc. The resultant alteration of the credit rating could be by a notch but more often than not as much as a few notches.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The credit rating herewith presented could be changed if and when the assumptions made at the time of its determination turn out to be inaccurate with regard to the issuer's financial grounds and asset quality. The change could be as much as a few notches if the issuer's financial structure differs so much and thereby the balance between debts shifted so greatly. Rating change is also possible in case of the financial products for which non-payment of interest/ principal is contractually permissible, if and when the assumptions made at the time of its determination turns out to be inaccurate. The change of the credit rating is assumed to be by a notch but often as much as a few notches.

E) Rise and Fall in General Economy and Markets

The credit rating herewith presented could be changed if and when the assumptions made at the time of its determination turn out to be inaccurate with regard to the prospects of general economy and markets.
