

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

HEIWA REAL ESTATE CO., LTD. (security code: 8803)

<Outlook Change>

Long-term Issuer Rating: BBB+
Outlook: from Stable to Positive

<Affirmation>

Bonds: BBB+
Shelf Registration: Preliminary BBB+

Rationale

- (1) HEIWA REAL ESTATE CO., LTD. (the “Company”) mainly engages in the leasing and management of buildings of stock exchanges including the Tokyo Stock Exchange, office buildings, commercial facilities and residential properties. It also handles asset management, real-estate brokerage, etc. As part of the Nihonbashi Kabutocho and Kayabacho Revitalization Project, KABUTO ONE opened in August 2021, and KITOKI, a hybrid building that combines a wooden structure and an SRC megastructure, was completed in April 2022. Revitalization is in progress in the district partly because a number of entrepreneurial financial start-ups concentrated and various commercial stores opened in the area. In 2025, the Kabutocho 12 Project (tentative name) intending to house Caption by Hyatt is scheduled to open. In Sapporo City, the Odori-nishi 4 south, Type-1 district redevelopment project is underway.
- (2) Earnings foundations of businesses for stable earnings sources, including real estate leasing and asset management businesses, are being strengthened. Property lineup is expanding through acquisition and development of office buildings and rental residential properties, and asset management fee and distribution income derived in relation to expansion of the asset size of HEIWA REAL ESTATE REIT, Inc. have been steady. From a medium term perspective, earnings and cash flow generation capacities of the both businesses, which are stable, will be on the rise. Financial structure is good. JCR assumes that the Company will be able to maintain the financial structure at a certain level while making redevelopment investments, etc. If the Company can maintain present earnings level and financial structure while redevelopment projects in Nihonbashi Kabutocho and Kayabacho, and Sapporo are underway, JCR views that upgrading of the ratings can be considered. Based on the above, JCR affirmed the ratings on the Company while changing the rating outlook from Stable to Positive.
- (3) For the fiscal year ending March 2024 (FY2023), operating profit is projected to be 12.3 billion yen, up 14.1% over the year, expecting to be at a level following the record high marked for FY2021, 12.6 billion yen. Although there will be profit fluctuations caused by sale of inventories, JCR views that the performance for FY2024 and beyond will likely remain stable as the Company has established a business portfolio centering on the office building leasing and asset management businesses. JCR will continue to closely watch the progress in the redevelopment projects in Nihonbashi Kabutocho and Kayabacho, and Sapporo.
- (4) Financial ratios are favorable. In addition to active investment in redevelopment projects, property acquisition, etc., the Company continues high shareholder returns under the current medium-term management plan (FY2020 through FY2023). Despite the facts, equity ratio has been kept at over 30% for the last few years, standing at 30.0% at the end of FY2022. JCR believes that the Company can control its financial standing even though it makes progress in investing in redevelopment and maintains present shareholder return policies; however, will pay attention to the direction of financial management policies indicated in the next medium-term management plan.

- Please see the news release. If the credit rating is a private rating, please see the report for private rating.

3 The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and business environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees.
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Business Bases

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's business bases - how they can be maintained/ expanded into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a financial institution might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions).

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as parent company, subsidiary, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating herewith presented by JCR is its summary opinion with regard to the likelihood of given debt payment and hence not necessarily a perfect representation of such likelihood. The credit rating is not intended to estimate the probability of default or the loss on given default, either.
- The objective of the credit rating herewith presented does not include any concerns other than the likelihood of debt payment, such as risks of price changes, market liquidity, etc.
- The credit rating herewith presented is necessary to be reviewed along with possible changes of the issuer of rated objects in its business performance and/ or circumstances which include regulatory environment, and hence subject to possible alteration.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The credit rating is subject to alteration if the issuer increases/ decreases its debt/ capital or vice versa and thereby makes its individual debt payment liability less or more bearable and its loss absorption capacity into the future decreased or increased. Also, the changes in the quality of asset under the issuer's holding may affect the credit rating, since such changes could raise or lower the likelihood of future loss of the issuer's financial grounds. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the financial grounds and/ or asset quality is large.

C) Liquidity Positions

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the issuer's financial management policy or in the relations with fund procurement sources and the change thereby makes its liquidity positions improve or deteriorate. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment and Non-Payment Forgiven by Contract

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the rated debt's status in the order of seniority relative to other debts caused by the improvement/ deterioration of the issuer's financial condition. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large. Also, in case of the financial products for which non-payment of interest/ principal is contractually permissible, the credit rating is subject to alteration if and when the likelihood of such non-payment is projected to increase or decrease. The resultant alteration of the credit rating could be by a notch but often as much as a few notches.
