

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

America Movil, S.A.B. de C.V. (security code: -)

<Rating Change>

Foreign Currency Long-term Issuer Rating: from A to A+
Outlook: Stable

Rationale

- (1) America Movil, based in Mexico, is the holding company of the America Movil group, a leading telecommunication service provider in Latin America. America Movil's profitability has strengthened on an expanded business base supported by an increased access number centering on wireless. Its financial position has also significantly improved following the repayment of its debt with the cash obtained from the sale of its business in the United States. Its performances are expected to remain solid in the future in light of the strengthened profitability. Based on the above, JCR upgraded the group's creditworthiness to be equivalent to A+. The creditworthiness of the group is continuously sustained by its leading position in the Latin American telecommunication markets, diversified business bases developed upon its worldwide strategy and its stable fund raising capacity in the international financial markets. Considering that America Movil's credit rating is identical to the group's creditworthiness, given its ability to control the group subsidiaries and its pivotal role in the group strategies and fund raising, JCR has upgraded America Movil's rating by one notch and kept the outlook Stable. The company is rated above Mexico's sovereign rating (FC: A-/Negative) due mainly to its overseas revenue base stemming from expanded international operations, its solid financial position and strong funding capacity in the international capital markets. On a separate note, the country ceiling for Mexico is A+.
- (2) The group's total access number of wireless and fixed-line telephony, Internet and pay TV stood at 367 million at the end of 2021, including 287 million mobile subscribers. In terms of wireless accesses, it has the largest customer base in Latin America. In Mexico, it makes approximately 38% of its EBITDA and boasts a leading position, commanding a market share of around 60% and 50%, respectively in the wireless and fixed-line telephony services. With regard to international business, the company ranks second in wireless telephony services and top in fixed-line telephony services and pay TV services in Brazil, the largest telecommunication market in Latin America. Claro, its subsidiary, decided to acquire the mobile business owned by Oi Group which ranks fourth in the Brazilian wireless telephony services jointly with Telefonica and TIM in the first half of 2022. The deal is expected to increase the number of its customers by 12 million. The company also enjoys leading positions in the wireless telephony services in Colombia and other Latin American countries. America Movil has set up Sitios Latinoamerica by spinning off the tower business in certain Latin American countries and plans to list it on the Mexican Stock Exchange in 2022. America Movil also has high market shares in Austria and Central and Eastern Europe through Telekom Austria, which it made its consolidated subsidiary in 2014. It sold TracFone, the largest player in the U.S. prepaid wireless telephony services, to Verizon for USD 6.25 billion in November 2021 and withdrew from the U.S. wireless telephony services.
- (3) The impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on the company's performance was limited in 2021. While its revenue increased only 1.9% year-on-year in 2021, its EBITDA grew 6.7% to MXN 328.8 billion due to the sale of towers by Telmex. Its net income surged 318.4% to MXN 196 billion as it posted MXN 112.7 billion in gain from the sale of Tracfone. A business environment persists such as the lingering regulatory risks like asymmetrical regulations imposed on preponderant agents and stiffening market competition. However, JCR holds that both its revenue and EBITDA will keep moderately increasing in the future, supported by its strengthened profitability.
- (4) The company's net debt significantly decreased from MXN 537.8 billion at the end of 2020 to MXN 400.7 billion a year earlier following the repayment of its debt with the cash obtained from the sale of its business in the United States. As a result, its net debt/EBITDA ratio improved from 1.93 times at the end of 2020 to 1.23 times at the end of 2021, which meant the company has now attained its 1.5 times target. As it plans to keep its net debt/EBITDA below 1.5, JCR will watch how it will progress.

3 The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and business environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees.
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Business Bases

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's business bases - how they can be maintained/ expanded into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a financial institution might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions).

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as parent company, subsidiary, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7

The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.
