

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

NEC Corporation (security code: 6701)

<Affirmation>

Long-term Issuer Rating: A+
Outlook: Stable

Rationale

- (1) NEC Corporation ("NEC") is one of Japan's major general electronics manufacturers. Its core businesses are system integration, maintenance and other services. NEC has the world's top-level technologies in facial authentication, iris recognition, fingerprint identification, etc. The network-related services, including 5G, is also one of its core businesses. Although highly relying on domestic operations for sales, NEC has established a stable blue-chip customer base. In the Mid-term Management Plan 2025, NEC is aiming to achieve earnings growth both in the growth business and the base business, positioning the follows as the growth business: Digital Government / Digital Finance (DG/DF), Global 5G, and Core DX.
- (2) NEC's performance is expected to remain steady for the foreseeable future. While 5G-related demand is weak both at home and abroad, the Network Services segment has shifted the business operation to that focusing on profitability. On the other hand, business environment is generally favorable for the core domestic IT service-related operations on the back of DX movements, and no signs of weakness have been observed in the strong trend of orders intake. The financial base enhancement also continues to progress. Based on the above, JCR has affirmed the rating on NEC with Stable outlook.
- (3) For the fiscal year ended March 2023 (FY2022), operating profit (IFRS) increased 28.6% from the previous fiscal year to 170.4 billion yen. It exceeded 100 billion yen for four fiscal years in a row and the level is rising. Although the Network Services segment decreased profit due to recording of streamlining assets expenses, expenses relating to strategic projects and structural reform expenses, etc., all other segments increased profits. For FY2023, NEC expects to report higher operating profit. It plans for increasing profit for all the five major segments. For the Network Services segment, elimination of the above-mentioned expenses is factored in the projection.
- (4) As at the end of FY2022, equity attributable to owners of parent expanded to 1,623.8 billion yen from 1,513.5 billion yen from the end of the previous fiscal year. Ratio of equity attributable to owners of parent and net D/E ratio were almost flat from a year earlier respectively to 40.8% (40.2% at the end of the previous fiscal year) and 0.12x (0.11x at the end of the previous fiscal year). While NEC is setting M&A execution as the axis of its growth strategy, its financial capacities have been on the rise. On the other hand, operating cash flow did not recover largely due partly to newly accumulate strategic inventories for FY2022. JCR will keep eyes on the trend in operating cash flow for FY2023.

The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and business environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees.
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Business Bases

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's business bases - how they can be maintained/ expanded into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a financial institution might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions).

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as parent company, subsidiary, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating herewith presented by JCR is its summary opinion with regard to the likelihood of given debt payment and hence not necessarily a perfect representation of such likelihood. - The objective of the credit rating herewith presented does not include any concerns other than the likelihood of debt payment, such as risks of price changes, market liquidity, etc.
- The credit rating herewith presented is necessary to be reviewed along with possible changes of the issuer of rated objects in its business performance and/ or circumstances which include regulatory environment, and hence subject to possible alteration.
