

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

MARUDAI FOOD CO., LTD. (security code: 2288)

<Affirmation>

Long-term Issuer Rating: BBB+
Outlook: Negative
CP: J-2

Rationale

- (1) MARUDAI FOOD CO., LTD. (the "Company") is one of Japan's major ham and sausage producers. It offers products with brand power such as "Kunseiya-Ripened Pork Sausage." It is also expanding sales in the Precooked & Processed Foods operations for prepared foods, desserts, etc. and acquired in July 2020 Toraku Foods Co., Ltd. ("Toraku Foods"), which manufactures and sells dairy processed foods including "Kobe Pudding" and "Rakuraku Whip." Moreover, in view of recent years' changes in the business environment, it has embarked on structural reforms to strengthen the earnings structure, primarily through: (i) the reorganization of production bases; (ii) consolidation of unprofitable products; and (iii) reduction of logistics costs by integrating distribution bases, etc.
- (2) The Company faces the urgent task of returning to profitability and restoring profits as soon as possible. As the new normal is taking root in the post-COVID era, demand is beginning to pick up in some sales channels, such as food service, but the business environment still requires attention because of high costs, weakening consumer confidence due to inflation, etc. To achieve business recovery, the key in the short run will be whether the Company can offset cost increases with the full-year contribution of price revisions; in the medium run, progress in earnings structure reforms is expected to help push up profits, and JCR will keep an eye on this. On the financial front, the Company maintains a certain level of financial soundness despite the large extraordinary loss that impaired equity capital in the fiscal year ended March 2023 (FY2022). Based on the above, JCR concluded that there still is some leeway to observe the future direction of the Company's performance even in the midst of the difficult business environment and affirmed the ratings on the Company while retaining the Negative outlook.
- (3) For FY2022, the Company posted operating loss for the third consecutive year and even ended the year with net loss for two years in a row due to the reporting of a large amount of extraordinary loss, including restructuring expenses. It expects to return to profitability in FY2023 with an operating income of 1.5 billion yen, thanks mainly to price revisions. Full-scale profit contribution from structural reforms is expected to be in FY2024 or later. JCR will keep an eye on trends in profit recovery over the medium term to see whether the Company can drastically strengthen its earnings base by taking such measures as the optimization of the production system and the selection and concentration of businesses.
- (4) Equity ratio as of March 31, 2023 was 54.1%, as opposed to 58.1% a year before. Although financial indicators worsened slightly due to the reporting of net loss, the sound financial base is still maintained. JCR predicts that the Company will be conservative in investment for a while as it will focus on structural reforms, and thus the financial structure is not likely to deteriorate rapidly.

3

The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and business environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees.
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Business Bases

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's business bases - how they can be maintained/ expanded into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a financial institution might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions).

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as parent company, subsidiary, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating herewith presented by JCR is its summary opinion with regard to the likelihood of given debt payment and hence not necessarily a perfect representation of such likelihood. The credit rating is not intended to estimate the probability of default or the loss on given default, either.
- The objective of the credit rating herewith presented does not include any concerns other than the likelihood of debt payment, such as risks of price changes, market liquidity, etc.
- The credit rating herewith presented is necessary to be reviewed along with possible changes of the issuer of rated objects in its business performance and/ or circumstances which include regulatory environment, and hence subject to possible alteration.

The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the business bases is large.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The credit rating is subject to alteration if the issuer increases/ decreases its debt/ capital or vice versa and thereby makes its individual debt payment liability less or more bearable and its loss absorption capacity into the future decreased or increased. Also, the changes in the quality of asset under the issuer's holding may affect the credit rating, since such changes could raise or lower the likelihood of future loss of the issuer's financial grounds. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the financial grounds and/ or asset quality is large.

C) Liquidity Positions

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the issuer's financial management policy or in the relations with fund procurement sources and the change thereby makes its liquidity positions improve or deteriorate. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the issuer's parent company or subsidiary, guarantor or other provider of credit enhancement, or the government of the issuer's business domicile, or other related parties' own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer, and the change thereby makes its business bases, financial grounds and/ or liquidity positions improve or deteriorate, and/ or making the effectiveness of guarantee and other credit enhancement improve or deteriorate. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment and Non-Payment Forgiven by Contract

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a change in the rated debt's status in the order of seniority relative to other debts caused by the improvement/ deterioration of the issuer's financial condition. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is large. Also, in case of the financial products for which non-payment of interest/ principal is contractually permissible, the credit rating is subject to alteration if and when the likelihood of such non-payment is projected to increase or decrease. The resultant alteration of the credit rating could be by a notch but often as much as a few notches.

The credit rating is subject to alteration if there is a rise/ fall in the general economy and/ or the markets inducing the issuer's revenues/ expenses to increase/ decrease and vice versa, etc. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change is exceptionally large.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The credit rating herewith presented could be changed if and when the assumptions made at the time of its determination turn out to be inaccurate with regard to the issuer's financial grounds and asset quality. The change could be as much as a few notches if the issuer's financial structure differs so much and thereby the balance between debts shifted so greatly. Rating change is also possible in case of the financial products for which non-payment of interest/ principal is contractually permissible, if and when the assumptions made at the time of its determination turns out to be inaccurate. The change of the credit rating is assumed to be by a notch but often as much as a few notches.
