

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

The Toho Bank, Ltd. (security code: 8346)

<Affirmation>

Long-term Issuer Rating: A
Outlook: Stable

Rationale

- (1) The Toho Bank, Ltd. (the "Bank") is a regional bank headquartered in Fukushima City, Fukushima Prefecture with a fund volume of approximately 6 trillion yen. The rating is supported by its strong business base with the largest market shares for the balances of deposits and loans in the prefecture, as well as a reasonable capital level. Although expanded systems-related expenses will be a factor to push down earnings for the time being, JCR sees that core net business income (excluding gains and losses on cancellation of investment trusts, etc., the same applies hereafter) will likely be steady, with the Bank's efforts to increase the balance of loans and accumulate yen-denominated bonds. However, profitability continues to be an issue to address, and JCR will be paying attention to the outcome of initiatives toward strengthening the operating revenue.
- (2) Core net business income has been maintained at a certain level due to cost reductions on the back of a review of the store network. In the first half of the fiscal year ending March 2024 (FY2023), profits decreased by 19% year on year, and ROA (based on core net business income) was in the mid-0.1% range. JCR believes that the impact of increased expenses associated with the mutual usage of core systems will not be small for the full FY2023. However, the domestic interest rate environment has been turning around, and the earnings environment for fund-related operation is improving. In addition to working to increase the balance of business loans in and out of Fukushima Prefecture, the Bank is expanding the balance of yen-denominated bonds. JCR expects net interest income to remain steady even as the repayments of COVID-19-related loans progress. Moreover, in the fee business, on which the Bank is focusing, it concluded a basic agreement with Toho Securities Co., Ltd. and Nomura Securities Co., Ltd. regarding a comprehensive business alliance in the financial instruments intermediary services, and JCR will monitor the progress going forward.
- (3) As of the end of September 2023, the ratio of disclosed claims under the Financial Reconstruction Act was at a low level of 1.31% (1.06% if partial direct write-offs were implemented). Although credit costs increased significantly in FY2020 due to factors such as a review of debtor classification in anticipation of the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic, credit costs have been at a low level since FY2021. It is necessary to pay attention to the impact of soaring resource prices on borrowers, but credit costs will remain within the range that can be fully absorbed by core net business income for the time being, thanks to conservative provisions being made, among others, in JCR's view.
- (4) In securities investment, the quantity of interest rate risk has expanded as the Bank has been increasing its balance mainly in yen-denominated bonds due to the rise in market interest rates. However, JCR believes that the quantity of market risk is not excessive relative to capital, as the Bank invests mainly in short- and medium-term bonds. Exposure to foreign currency-denominated bonds has been kept low, and unrealized losses on available-for-sale securities remain small.
- (5) The consolidated core capital ratio after adjusting for loan loss reserves was just under 9% at end-September 2023. JCR believes that although risk-weighted assets are expanding mainly due to an increase in loan balances, the current core capital ratio can be maintained as retained earnings are expected to accumulate.

3 The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and business environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees.
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Business Bases

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's business bases - how they can be maintained/ expanded into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a financial institution might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions).

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7

Also, the changes in the quality of asset under the issuer's holding may affect the credit rating, since such changes could raise or lower the likelihood of future loss of the issuer's financial grounds. The resultant alteration of the credit rating is usually by a notch, with possibility of a few notches if and when the change in the financial grounds and/ or asset quality is large.
