

Japan Credit Rating Agency, Ltd. (JCR) announces the following credit rating.

Oenon Holdings, Inc. (security code: 2533)

<Outlook Change>

Long-term Issuer Rating: BBB

Outlook: from Negative to Stable

Rationale

- (1) Oenon Holdings, Inc. (the “Company”) is the holding company of Oenon Group. In the alcoholic beverages business, its kou-type and otsu-type shochu (Japanese white sprits) rank high in the industry. Chu-Hi is characterized by its diverse product lineup, and the Company has established good relations with major distribution groups also through the initiatives for private brand (PB) products. In addition, it is one of the top companies in the alcohol for sales. In the non-alcoholic beverage business, it also engages in the enzymes and pharmaceuticals business and real estate business. In November 2022, The Royal Park Canvas Ginza Corridor (leased to Mitsubishi Estate Company Limited), rebuilt from the former headquarters building, was opened. JCR reflects the creditworthiness of the group as a whole in the rating on the Company.
- (2) Business performance passed the worst phase and is now back to a cruising speed. Business environment is severe due to factors such as shrinking alcoholic beverage market and high raw material prices, making them difficult to maintain an optimistic outlook for the time being. However, the alcoholic beverages business maintains a certain presence in the industry, and sales still remain strong after the recent price increases. Although the enzymes and pharmaceuticals business is less likely be profitable as before due to intense competition for lactase (lactase-splitting enzyme), the real estate business has become a stable earnings source contributing to the performance. Reduction in fixed costs through streamlining of the organization in the past fiscal year is also a supporting factor and the performance has remarkably recovered and downside risk has also receded. Based on the above, JCR has affirmed the rating on the Company while revising the outlook from Negative to Stable.
- (3) In the Company’s projection or the fiscal year ended December 2023 (FY2023), it projects a net sales of 85.5 billion yen, up 5.4% from the previous fiscal year, and an operating income of 2.75 billion yen, 7.1 billion yen in the red for the previous fiscal year (as at the time information disclosed in November 2023). The alcoholic beverages business, which incurred an operating deficit of 0.96 billion yen in the previous fiscal year, is expected to make a turnaround to 1.8 billion yen in the black. Other than the effects of price increase made from 2022 onward, brisk sales of PB products centering on Chu-Hi to capture the consumer needs for low-priced products and sales expansion of alcohol for sales will likely be the positive factors. Furthermore, profit will grow in the real estate business due to full year contribution of the hotel in Ginza will also likely boost the performance.
- (4) The equity ratio has been in the 30% range since the early 2010s. In relation to reconstruction of the former headquarters building, interest-bearing debt temporarily jumped to around 10 billion from the previous level between 2 billion yen and 3 billion yen. Due partly to performance deterioration, this ratio was 32.0% at the end of FY2022, falling from 38.3% at the end of FY2021. However, it improved to 37.2% at the end of the third quarter of FY2023 with completion of large-scale investments and performance recovery. Going forward, a considerable amount of financial burden will be required where it enhances the production capacity of Chu-Hi, but it will unlikely be a scale that significantly deteriorates the financial structure.

The Main Assumptions and Principles used in Constructing the Procedures and Methodologies used to Determine the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(C) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, to be applied to assess the likelihood of a given debt payment in light of its issuer's condition and business environment, etc. in the relevant future. There is certain limitation, however, in the time horizon that the rating foresees.
- The credit rating methodology assumes, in principle, that the factors posted in the below are particularly important for such likelihood to be determined, and that the rating determination is made by evaluating each of them not only quantitatively but also employing qualitative analyses.

A) Business Bases

The likelihood of a given debt payment is highly conditional to its issuer's business bases - how they can be maintained/ expanded into the future and thereby secure earnings and cash flows in adequacy and in a sustainable way.

B) Financial Grounds and Asset Quality

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the degree of the issuer's indebtedness and loss absorption capacity in terms of equity capital. Also notable is that a financial institution might see a significant loss of financial grounds as a result of changes in value of the assets under its possession.

C) Liquidity Positions

The likelihood of debt payment is highly dependent on the adequacy of the issuer's cash and other sources of repayment (liquidity positions).

D) Related Parties' Status and Stance of Support/ Assistance for the Issuer

The likelihood of debt payment is affected one way or the other by the issuer's related parties such as parent company, subsidiary, guarantor, and the government of the issuer's business domicile, etc. - by their own conditions and/ or position of support/ assistance for the issuer.

E) Order of Seniority in Debt Payment

The likelihood of debt payment can be different between given debts of the same issuer. The likelihood of debt payment for an individual debt is dependent on the issuer's discretion, and/ or its rank relative to other debts of the same issuer in the order of seniority in principal/ interest payment which is determined by design as financial product or by laws, etc.

4 The Potential Limitations of the Credit Rating as Required by Paragraph (a)(1)(ii)(D) of Rule 17g-7

- The credit rating herewith presented by JCR is its summary opinion with regard to the likelihood of given debt payment and hence not necessarily a perfect representation of such likelihood. The credit rating is not intended to estimate the probability of default or the loss on given default, either.
- The objective of the credit rating herewith presented does not include any concerns other than the likelihood of debt payment, such as risks of price changes, market liquidity, etc.
- The credit rating herewith presented is necessary to be reviewed along with possible changes of the issuer of rated objects in its business performance and/ or circumstances which include regulatory environment, and hence subject to possible alteration.
